Perfect Treatment For This Distressing Complaint

WASING, ONT.
I had an attack of Weeping Eczema; so bad that my clothes would be wet through at times. For four months, I suffered terribly. I could get no relief until I tried "Fruit-a-lives" and "Sootha Salva." INDIAN CHIEF IS FINED FOR HAVING LIQUOR

Cider of 4.7 Proof in Possession of Port Simpson Big Tyeo.

William Goodwin, one of the chiefs of the Port Simpson band of Indians, was this morning fined $50.00 and costs for having in his possession cider, which carried 4.7 proof spirits, this being an offence against both the Indian Act and the Prohibition Act. The case was tried before Indian Agent Perry.

Two barrels of the cider were seized in his store by Constable Watkinson at the fish camp in Wark Channel. The cider was manufactured in Vancouver and the department proposes instituting proceedings against the manufacturers.

Last week Constable Watkinson paid a visit to the Indian houses at Balmoral cannery and seized several barrels of home brew. Two Indians were charged, both hailing from Hazelton. One was fined $100 and the other $20 and ten days in jail for being drunk and failing to state where he procured the liquor. The cases came before Dr. Large at Port Essington.

UNITED METALS CO., LTD.

Editor The News:—

Mr. Ole Evindsen has had many inquiries as to the standing of the United Metals Co., Ltd., and how their stock was as an investment, and that the company had so many tons of ore mined and would ship so much. I wish to publish the facts for the protection of these people.

In the month of May, 1918, Mr. Severance, the president of the United Metals Co., Ltd., came to me in Seattle, Wash., stating that the company had no funds in their treasury and could not go on, and asked me if I would take the properties of the company over. I told him to hold a stockholders meeting, both in Seattle, Wash., and in Vancouver, B. C., authorizing him to sell the properties belonging to the company to me, which he did.

On the 12th day of June, 1918, I took over the entire holdings of the United Metals Co., Ltd., for $25,000. The United Metals Co., Ltd., is capitalized at five million dollars and I have complied with the payments of my contract as they came due.

The old company stock does not share in any of the ore now mined and shipped. The only value the stock has is that of division on the remaining payments due on the sale price of the property. Each shareholder receives this share according to the amount of stock he holds.

From the investor's standpoint he would have to ascertain the amount of money still due the old company for the properties and buy according to what the stock would be worth on division, which would be a very small amount per share on the outstanding stock.

Article 5 of my contract reads: "The party of the second part shall have the right to go upon said claims, develop the same, take the ore from same and to sell the same during such time as he complies with the terms of this contract." I personally have no

STORY OF MORMONS REPEATED TONIGHT

William Farnum Featured in "Riders of the Purple Sage" At the Westholme.

William Farnum in a great story of the Mormon colony at Utah in the early days known as "Riders of the Purple Sage" gives a great idea of that great country and a thrilling story of the days when women were enticed to that state and practically imprisoned by the Mormon Church.

The story of the flight to the mountains and of the chase, and finally of the shutting of the man and woman in the closed valley by the overthrow of a balanced rock is such an interesting and picturesque one that it is sure to attract another large audience at the Westholme Theatre tonight.
Charlie Chaplin in a one-reel comedy is very funny without being too boisterous.
