GETTING READY FOR TOURISTS

In order to make the city look attractive to tourists and in order to increase our self-respect, it would be wise to begin the work of cleaning up the yards, improving the gardens, and painting the buildings that are needing it. So much can be done by individual effort to make things brighter and better. It is the little things that count. Making big plans do not amount to much. A little place well kept is far better than a big place run to seed. It is suggested that a spring slogan should be: "Prince Rupert, the city beautiful."

REGISTERING AS A VOTER

People who failed to vote at the last provincial election will have to register if they wish their names kept on the list. It is now the time when they are about to be struck off unless they take this action. While there is no election in sight just now, it is just as well to keep on the list so that when the time comes all will be in readiness. There are always a number of people who wish to vote, but who are not allowed to do so just because they have failed to register.

DOING USEFUL WORK

Many people do very useful work and yet they never get their name inscribed upon the tablets in the hall of fame. Their useful deeds go unrecorded. Just recently a man died on Vancouver Island who was a celebrity because he had devoted himself to a line of activity and had done it well. The man was "Dad" James, the cougar hunter. He is said to have killed hundreds of cougars, thus riding the farmers of enemies which did an immense amount of damage. If a sheep was killed, the farmers sent for Dad and put him on the trail of the beast. He invariably brought home the pelt. He went about the work systematically, trained dogs to the hunt and the result was that no cougar could live in peace within 50 miles. He excelled in his work and his name is known among hunters and farmers on the island and will be remembered for many years.

Fashion Fancies

Irregularity is the keynote to Chic

Here is proof that fashion is still being faithful to the irregular line. It is the printed chiffon afternoon dress sketched above, which has a long-on-one-side berth.

The skirt affects the moulded hipline and a double peplum. The fabric is brown, beige and yellow, with beige chiffon bands.

A Formal Evening Gown of Unusual Grace

Here is a chiffon dance frock in a deep evergreen shade, cut on fall lines. A circular berth flows from the low décolletage in back and ends in a train effect at the heels.

The hips are molded and two circular flares make a long-in-back skirt. This is the type of dress that looks perfectly gorgeous when its wearer is "in action."

The Ravelled Edge Costume Makes Its Appearance

And now ravelled edges for sports. This is a smart innovation which shows every sign of becoming extremely popular. It adds that note of carelessness which is so essential to the informal mode.

This ensemble of spring green kasha has a three-quarter length coat which uses ravelled fringe about one inch deep for all its edges. A single row of machine stitching holds the ravelled intact. The blouse, of white silk crepe, has a scarf neck that repeats the ravelled motif.

GOVERNMENT WILL NOT PAY TAXES TO CITY ON ITS VACANT PROPERTY

At the meeting of the city council last night a letter was read from H. Cathcart on behalf of the Provincial Government department of lands in reply to a request that they pay taxes on the Government block in the centre of the city, especially that part which is being rented. The letter said that the department would not do this.

SUBDIVISION PLAN RAILWAY LOTS ON G. T. P. HOTEL SITE

At the meeting of the city council last night Frank Rice on behalf of the Canadian National Railways asked approval of a subdivision plan of Block E from Little's news stand to and including the old G.T.P. hotel site. The application was referred to the city engineer and board of works for report.

DISAPPEARING BARGE SUBJECT OF FAMOUS ARTIST'S STUDY OF LIFE

J. H. Amshewitz, noted English artist, chooses the almost extinct, but infinitely picturesque, barge as a subject for his studies from life. Power-driven barges are fast replacing the old regime.

of VIENNA and BUDAPEST—head of the famous House of Pessl, beauty advisors to the aristocracy for over 100 years—

advises this one way to skin beauty

This celebrated expert emphasizes the importance of washing for beauty and warns against the ill-effects of soaps not specially made to retain the bloom of a good complexion.

S. PESSL, head of the celebrated House of Pessl, which has ministered to the beauty needs of Royalty for over 100 years. Monsieur Pessl is court hair-dresser, today, and has as patrons the Ex-Empress of Austria and many of the Queens of Europe.

"I earnestly recommend to my clients that they use only the soap blended of palm and olive oils. The use of Palmolive is especially important because its gentle action leaves the skin in a healthy, smooth, normal condition which is the very foundation of a beautiful complexion."

Above the doorway of the Pessl Shop, across from the opera house in Vienna, may be seen crests of some of the celebrated Royal houses to which the House of Pessl has acted as Beauty Advisor

IN gay Vienna, where the women are enchanting; in romantic Budapest, on the Danube—there is one name in beauty culture which has been recognized for over a hundred years—the name of Pessl!

Today, in the celebrated shop across from the opera in Vienna, S. Pessl carries on the tradition of the Pessl name. The crowned heads to which he has ministered are evidenced by the royal crests authorized to display above the windows of his typically Viennese shop.

To his select patrons, Pessl recommends a very simple treatment for retaining youthful loveliness . . . the same treatment advised by the outstanding beauty specialists of Paris, Berlin, Rome, London, Geneva—everywhere.

Palm and olive oils in soap

"I should naturally have been led, by my knowledge of the complexion effects of palm and olive oils," says S. Pessl, "to have invented a soap made exclusively from them."

"As these oils are already combined in Palmolive Soap," Monsieur Pessl explains, "I earnestly recommend to my patrons that they use only this soap. Its gentle action cleans the skin thoroughly and, at the same time, leaves it in a healthy, smooth, normal condition which is the very foundation of a beautiful complexion."

The famous "international" treatment for a lovely skin

The poisonous and dangerous secretions of dirt and dust, of make-up and cream which find their way deep into the pores must be removed. Palm and olive oils, as they are blended in Palmolive Soap, act to soften the skin, to cleanse the pores, to refresh the natural coloring.

To get the utmost benefit from Palmolive Soap, you are urged by all the experts to follow this treatment, twice a day: with both hands make a rich lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water. Massage it gently into the skin, permitting it to penetrate the pores, to free them of all impurities. Then rinse, first with warm water, later cold. An ice massage is invigorating.

M. Pessl's advice is echoed by such famous specialists as Lina Cavalieri, of Paris; Elise Bock, of Berlin; Bertha Jacobson, of London. Wherever women seek the best skin care they are told: wash for beauty with Palmolive Soap.

A priceless formula embodying the precious oils of palm and olive, famous since the days of Cleopatra for prolonging health and beauty.
