Mrs. Forbes Makes Butter

She calls it Economy Butter, and it is well named, considering the quantity she gets, and the low cost of the extra butter. To half a pound of butter add one SMALL tin of Pacific Milk, in which has been dissolved a small pinch of baking soda. Whip 'till the butter has all been taken up and allow to set gradually in a cool place. It makes almost a pound of butter—good butter, too. Many will thank Mrs. Forbes for her kindness, as we do.

SOME FRUITS VERY SCARCE

Preserving Peaches Slow in Arriving and Apricots are Practically Over.

Preserving peaches have been expected in the past few shipments received by the local merchants. They are not arriving in any great numbers yet, however, and the price is still high. Apricots are practically over and there are no more strawberries except those that are found in the back yard patches of a few Rupert homes. Plums are still too high priced for any great profit in preserving and the same can be said of peaches, but further less expensive shipments of these two fruits are still expected. Cherries are very scarce and it is hard to get any sent up from the south.

The berries at Metlakatla are now in very fine condition for picking and large pailfuls can be gathered in a short time. A few evenings ago a party went over and the returns on the average for an hour's picking amounted to 14 lbs. each. Some of the berries are on sale in the local stores and are rapidly bought up. A few of the meat prices have dropped somewhat and veal has come down over five cents per pound. It is not expected that this price will continue for long, as the market is abundantly supplied at this time of the year with livestock. In the fall and winter the supply is much less and prices will begin to soar.
