IN THE LETTER BOX

WANTS THE SCHOOL

To the Editor.— I hear that there are a few people canvassing against the new school that the people are to vote on this week.

If we are going to let people who have come in lately and who have no stake in the place upset our school plans and because they are jealous say that we shall not have a place to educate our children, it is time some of us old timers came out strong and did what we could to get this by-law passed.

I don't happen to have any children of school age myself but I know a lot of people who have and I would like to see a good school on the hill, if only to let outsiders and newcomers see that we stand for education and that there is no moss on our backs as they sometimes say there is.

OLD TIMER.

SALMON RUNNING SHAWATLANS STREAM

Those who have never watched salmon ascending a stream should not miss the chance to see them at Shawatlans falls. While they are not as numerous as they were a few weeks ago, they still ascend in large numbers and yesterday were so thick in some places that they touched each other side by side like sardines in a can except that all the heads were one way.

BIRTH

A son was born on Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cavanaugh of this city at the Prince Rupert General Hospital.

"LION AND MOUSE" AT THE EMPRESS

Dramatic and Intensely Human is Photoplay to Be Shown Tonight.

If you were the richest and most powerful man in the world and you had been brought to a point of humiliation by a clever and beautiful girl, whom you had forbidden the doors of your home, and who loved and was loved by your only son, what would you do about it?

What John Burkett Ryder did about it provides one of the most tensely dramatic and intensely human scenes in "The Lion and the Mouse," the Vitagraph super-feature, which will be seen in the Empress tonight.

Confronted in his library by the girl and his son, as the girl smiling her triumph, starts to leave the house, the great man turns in his wrath on the youth, and says this:

"You damned fool—go after her. If a girl like that loved me—"

"MANTLE OF CHARITY" HUMAN AND HUMOROUS

Margarita Fisher in Odd Story at Westholme Theatre Tonight.

As dangerous as the wire entanglements on "No Man's Land" are the traps and meshes of caprice thrown out for a millionaire philanthropist by Norah McDonald, played by Margarita Fisher in "The Mantle of Charity." In this production of the American Film Company, the human and humorous appeal are instant; the humor is spontaneous and the story is odd.

The fallacy of red tape, the drawbacks of long-winded methods in charity work and the short sightedness of a young man, who means well but accomplishes little, is satirized in a unique and interesting manner in "The Mantle of Charity" to be shown at the Westholme Theatre tonight. Margarita Fisher is the star.

R. Davie, bookkeeper for McCaffery & Albert, returned to the city from the interior last evening, where he has been holidaying for the past few weeks.
