

Man in the Moon

Jake says not even a wife is right all the time.

The class competition was on "Kings," and this is what one boy wrote: "The most powerful king on earth is Wor-king; the laziest, Shp-king; one of the worst is Smo-king; the wittiest, Jo-king; the quietest, Thin-king; the thirstiest, Drink-king; the slyest, Win-king; and the noisiest, Tal-king."

One of the speaker's chief points concerned the modern, common-sense style of women's dress. "Do you know," she cried to her audience, who were nearly all her own sex, "that our present style of sensible clothing has reduced accidents on trams, trains and buses by at least fifty per cent?"

A store may be sad because of the panes in the windows or if it is a book store it may be because the books are in tiers.

If a man is erroneously reported by a newspaper to be dead, the best thing is to place him in the birth column and give him a fresh start.

To have April Fool Day and Easter Monday come on the same day is bad. What's the use of fooling a person who is having a holiday.

Next week I'm going to spend all the money I am denying myself on giggles curing Lent.

Dear Man in the Moon—You seem to be like most other men. You think men are the lords of creation and women are weak helpings. I tell you, I can steer a ship as well as any man, and if a gale is blowing I like it all the better. I hope you'll take that all back about the man taking the helm in time of stress. No mere man can take any helm.

Yours in the cause of sex equality.

SUSAN SLIPSHOD

There once was a woman named Susan.

Who was fond of going to sea; She stuck to the wheel, Though thunders may peal. Yes, she is the woman for me.

Weak and Run Down Didn't Want to Eat Could Not Sleep

Mrs. D. Leone, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., writes: "I was weak and run down; did not want to eat, and could not sleep. I felt tired of living and often longed for death to free me from my terrible misery as I felt I would never be strong again. I thought I would try and really I soon felt like eating and living, and new life seemed to come to me. Manufactured only by The T. M. L. Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.
