Man in the Moon

Clothes make the man; lack of it the woman.

Jake says clothes may make the man but cosmetics make the woman.

The natural patriot is the man who thinks his radio set is the best in the world, his car can beat any other on the road, his gramaphone has a finer tone than any other, his piano is the only one of its kind and his wife has every other wife in the country beat a million miles.

The difference between a car and a horse is that the car has deteriorated at least five hundred dollars in selling value at the end of the first week.

Business is good at a drug store when there is a big demand for postage stamps.

Peacetime Patriotism

A Fable for Merchants and Salesmen

SHE was an insistent purchaser of local products. She knew the security of her home depended largely on herself, and all mothers like her—depended on their insistence of securing local products. For it was directly through the prosperity and increasing activity of local industry that the men folk of her country enjoyed secure positions and steady employment.

That is why, when shopping for an outer garment for her son, she demanded a local product. The store clerk hesitated and told her the article she required was out of stock at present, but that a certain foreign-made article was "just as good." She refused the foreign garment and left the store.

Back of this mother's insistence was a pride in the products of her homeland —the true peacetime patriotism.

This story has a moral for Merchants

The progress of British Columbia depends on increased production and increased purchasing of British Columbia products by the public. Be fair to yourself! Be loyal to British Columbia! Sell more British Columbia products.

This is the fifth advertisement of a series authorized by the B.C. Products Bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade in the interests of the manufacturers of British Columbia.
