Man in the Moon

One way to economize in fuel is to use less.

Today is election day and tonight we shall see what we shall see. I wish I had a fiver to bet but I'm broke and my credit is all gone to slivers.

Tonight we shall see
Who's the winner—
Whether it's the saint
Or the sinner.
For I hope the best man wins
So he may answer for his sins
For the loser I consider
Is the winner.

Jake suggests putting the names of the aldermen in a hat and drawing for the winners. That would not be much more of a gamble than taking chances with the Prince Rupert electors.

Never lose faith in the country because a few of the laws are broken. See what havoc is made of the Ten Commandments.

There is a rumor to the effect that local haberdashers have doubled the order for straw hats in order to try to ward off a bad attack of bowleritis.

The curling club seems to have lost interest in the game. What's the matter with that club anyway?

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

January 17, 1919

Johnstone Smith Harkley of Stewart, whose trial on a charge of murder is in progress here, declares that he shot Frank Martin in self-defense.

Thomas McClymont was re-elected mayor of Prince Rupert yesterday over W. H. Montgomery and S. M. Newton. G. B. Casey headed the aldermanic poll and others elected were H. B. Rochester, John Currie, C. C. Perry, D. C. McRae, Thomas McMeekin, W. G. Barrie and Mrs. W. J. Kirkpatrick. George Hill was elected police commissioner. The tax exemption bylaw on the dry dock and the land grant to the Great War Veteran's Association were approved with large majorities.

Rev. Dr. H. R. Grant officiated yesterday at the funeral of the late Mrs. J. A. Murray. Pallbearers were: J. Ledlie, W. F. Cameron, M. M. Stephens, W. McRae, M. McLeod and J. McDonald.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Peacetime Patriotism

A Fable for Merchants and Salesmen

SHE was an insistent purchaser of local products. She knew the security of her home depended largely on herself, and all mothers like her—depended on their insistence of securing local products. For it was directly through the prosperity and increasing activity of local industry that the men folk of her country enjoyed secure positions and steady employment.

That is why, when shopping for an outer garment for her son, she demanded a local product. The store clerk hesitated and told her the article she required was out of stock at present, but that a certain foreign-made article was "just as good." She refused the foreign garment and left the store.

Back of this mother's insistence was a pride in the products of her homeland—the true peacetime patriotism.

This story has a moral for Merchants

The progress of British Columbia depends on increased production and increased purchasing of British Columbia products by the public. Be fair to yourself! Be loyal to British Columbia! Sell more British Columbia products.

This is the fifth advertisement of a series authorized by the B.C. Products Bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade in the interests of the manufacturers of British Columbia
