Presentation To Cocoa Tree Club Fine Moose Head

LONDON, Dec. 14.—The Cocoa Tree Club is the second oldest club in London—it was already flourishing in the days of Queen Anne. On Oct. 23 it was the scene of a pleasant function when in celebration of the presentation of a moose head to the club by the Agent General, both he and W. A. McAdam, the Secretary to the office, were guests at the monthly club dinner. The arrangements for the presentation were made by R. F. Cruise formerly of North Vancouver, and among other British Columbians present were Brig. Gen. R. P. Clark, and General W. Lindsay. Some excitement was caused during the day by the discovery that the moose head, which measured five feet across, was too large to pass through the club's doors, and a large crowd gathered in St. James Street to see the club window taken out and the head hoisted in.

"The English law doesn't allow a man as much rope as the American law" a senator of the United States once remarked. "An American, a very wealthy man, once said to an Englishman, 'Oh, yes, you have a good trade here in England, perhaps, but as far as Napoleons of finance go, why, I have never once met a Napoleon of finance in all my visits to London!' No, probably not," the Englishman replied. "You see, we keep our Napoleons of finance in jail!"

Irish

An Irish priest, in an impoverished district, was the beneficiary of a gift day, in which all of his parishioners brought gifts to the altar. The reverend father, as the phrase is, rose to thank them, voice husky with emotion. "An' the one thing that touched me heart most of all, wuz whin little Maggie Clancy walked up the aisle, and laid an egg on the altar."

A Mexican and an American worked together in a mine in Kansas. On several occasions the Mexican had rabbit in his dinner pail and he shared it with his work-mate. One day the American asked: "Where do you get rabbits, Jose? I can't find any."

"My wife, she get um," Jose replied.

"Ever' night they come around the house and make noise, she shoot um."

"Noise? Rabbits don't make a noise."

"Sure," answered Jose positively, "Go, 'meow, meow.'"

A Toronto man wanted to astonish his wife, so he hid in a doorway as she came along a dark part of the street and jumped out and kissed her. He naturally expected a very loud protest—even a shriek of terror. Instead these were the words he heard: "Don't be so bold, mister. I'm well known around here."
