Man in the Moon

Now the clouds have rolled away,
Smiling skies have come to stay
Warming, cheering, causing joy,
Nothing henceforth will annoy.

Talking about weather, it is understood that about half the local people had decided to move to some sunnier clime once they secured the price. Now they are proposing to invite their friends to come to live here.

A lovely young lady named Lora
Addicted to studying flora,
Searched meadows all over
For one four-leaf clover
And now she'll be married tomora'.

A lady writes to know if I really think thirteen is an unlucky number. Under certain circumstances I should say it was. It is unlucky to stop at thirteen in connection with the size of the family.

What a lot of people remind one of Abraham Lincoln. Old Abe, you will remember, could not sing.

Mrs. Talker—Henry, you were talking in your sleep last night.

Mr.—Oh, was I? Sorry to have interrupted you.

He was visiting the newlyweds at their home. Everything was fine, but—

"Why did you take an apartment with such a tiny kitchenet, Tom, old boy?"

"Well, you're the first man I've told, so keep it quiet. It's so small I can't get in there to help my wife when she's doing the dishes."

POWERFUL MOTIVE

It was the young barrister's first case and he was bubbling over with pride and enthusiasm as he stood in court.

"Now," said he, addressing the defendant, "you say you came to town to look for work? I put it to you there was another, a stronger motive that brought you all this distance."

"Well," hesitated the defendant, "there was——"

"Ah!" cried the barrister, triumphantly. "And what was it?"

"A locomotive."—South Coast Times.
