SERVE B. C. FIRST

The question of the building of roads is again a live one in British Columbia. Vancouver wants a road to Alaska which will help bring tourists to that city. Doubtless it is desirable, but it is hoped that the government at Victoria will not be swayed too much by the wishes of the big city.

First and before everything else, Prince Rupert people think they have a road coming to them. After waiting patiently for twenty years and more and still with only five and a half miles of provincial roads leading out of the city, it is time something substantial was done. This certainly should precede any tourist road to Alaska.

Then there is another road that is more important than any tourist road. It is the one to connect the Peace River country with the central part of British Columbia. As it is, the Peace is wholly cut off from the rest of the province and the result is that the Edmonton cities get the benefit of the Peace River business. Build a road and a railway and the Peace will then become really a part of British Columbia, to which province it belongs.

After the two most important highways are built will be time enough to consider the matter of a north and south trunk road that will connect Alaska with the States and which is being asked for by the American people.

We want to please our American neighbors, but we must not neglect our own people in any effort to please them. As we have said before. First things first. Give Prince Rupert proper highway transportation and Peace River the same and then look after Alaska. This should be urged upon Mr. Lougheed when he visits here next week.

The young know everything, but gradually they come to learn that they are clever if they know but one thing.

CITY MANAGER PLAN (Juneau Empire)

Cleveland voters the other day, for the third time, defeated a proposal submitted to them to abandon the city manager and commission plan of government for the old mayor and city council system. The movement for a return to the old system was led by former mayor of Cleveland and former governor of Ohio, Harry L. Davis, an astute political leader of the old school. The campaign was a hot one throughout, and charges of graft and waste were freely made against City Manager Hopkins and the other municipal officials. The Cleveland Plain Dealer led the fight for the retention of the manager-commission plan and the defense of Manager Hopkins' administration. It declared emphatically that "beyond question Cleveland has had under the manager plan the most economical, business-like, efficient and satisfactory government in many years." The verdict of the people sustained the Plain Dealer's position.

The people generally will be glad that the people of Cleveland have determined to give the manager-commission form of government a thorough test. It is important to other large cities that a city of a million inhabitants should try out a system that has worked well in smaller towns. If it is a success in Cleveland, it might serve to improve municipal government in other large cities. Chicago and Philadelphia, for instance, might get good government some day.

Ideas are always dangerous. Many have suffered for them, while others have been so obsessed with them that they have made others suffer.

PRESENT REPORTS

Interesting Matters Referred To by Miss Harrison and Mr. Birch Following Hospital Convention

A number of interesting matters, including new developments in instruction and hospital procedure, were reported to the hospital board last night by Miss Jean Harrison, R.N., lady superintendent, and H. W. Birch, managing secretary, following their recent attendance at the annual convention of the British Columbia Hospitals Association in Nanaimo.

Lack of uniformity in the matter of marine hospital treatment for sailors was referred to by Mr. Birch. Whereas the local hospital had refused to accept $2.50 per day for patients, as this was less than the cost, and was now being paid additional for such services as X-ray, the Royal Columbian Hospital at New Westminster, having not stood out for more, was receiving the original rate. Whereas the government paid the local hospital for doctors' services, the Vancouver General Hospital paid the doctors itself.

Another point mentioned by Mr. Birch was that at present the Workmen's Compensation Board could not be sued if differences should arise. The Hospitals Association was going further into this matter to bring about adjustments if possible.

Miss Harrison mentioned that the matter of indigent patients coming to city or municipality hospitals from unorganized districts was being taken up with a view to obtaining some relief.

New medical and surgical discoveries had been disclosed in connection with the treatment of the insane and lung trouble. The Hospital Association had expressed itself as being favorable to the project whereby student nurses from all parts of the province could be sent to Tranquille Sanitarium, near Kamloops, for tuberculosis instruction, their fares being paid as well as the same allowances they received in their home hospitals. Miss Harrison stated that Vancouver General and Tranquille Hospitals were now X-raying prospective student nurses for tuberculosis which if found, would bar them from entry as students.

The board felt that it had done well in sending both Miss Harrison and Mr. Birch to the convention. Miss Harrison thanked the board for sending her, stating that it had been of much value to her to go.

Pretty Wedding Last Evening

Miss Christine McLeod Becomes Bride of Matthew E. Prendergast of Vancouver

A pretty wedding took place last evening when Rev. Dr. R. M. Stevenson, M.A., Ph.D., F.R.G.S., united in marriage Miss Christina, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McLeod, 410 8th Avenue W., to Mr. Matthew E. Prendergast, eldest son of Mrs. V. Miller, 4592 St. Catherine St., Vancouver. The ceremony took place at the First Presbyterian Church at 7 p.m., the church being beautifully decorated for the occasion.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of white georgette and silk lace. Her veil of embroidered silk net was held in place with a corsage and clusters of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of ophelia roses and heather.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Annie McLeod, becomingly gowned in orchid and white georgette and picture hat, carrying a lovely bouquet of carnations and heather.

The groom was supported by William McLeod, brother of the bride, and Cop. Bennett and Mr. Hibbard acted as ushers. During the signing of the register Miss Bessie Campbell sang "I Love You Truly."

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, 410 8th Ave. W. Mrs. D. McLeod, mother of the bride, was gowned in old rose flat crepe, with picture hatch to match. The bridal party received under an arch of blossoms and bells. A three-tiered wedding cake centred the bride's table.

Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Prendergast left for a honeymoon trip to Vancouver and other southern cities. The bride wearing for going away a navy blue georgette ensemble, with hat to match and grey American wombat coat, the gift of the groom.

Numerous friends join in congratulating the new married couple.

Labor Newspaper Fails and Taken as Private Enterprise

(Edmonton Bulletin) The British Labor party defines the limitations of its faith in socialism, by turning over its newspaper to private ownership and control, and, of course, to operation for private gain.

And thus explained, the doctrine of the party is that the public can with advantage operate coal mines, railways and other means of wealth production, but when it comes to making both ends of a newspaper meet, that job lies beyond the genius of Hon. Philip Snowden.

"The soap I recommend is Palmolive" says Albert Leblanc of Nice

"I know of no other soap which meets all the requirements of complexion, care, acting at once as a cleanser and a valuable and soothing emollient."

A. Leblanc
Nice

Famous Beauty Specialist of the fashionable Hotel Negresco at Nice, on the French Riviera, frequented by many of the world's smartest women.

"ERRONEOUS ideas on complexion care," according to Albert Leblanc, of Nice, "are very hard to correct. I am still occasionally asked: 'Shall I use soap on my face?' My answer is always a decided affirmative. It is quite wrong to suppose the skin can be thoroughly cleansed by other methods... and the soap I recommend is Palmolive!" So says Monsieur Leblanc, head of the Hotel Negresco Beauty Salon.

Monsieur Leblanc studied the art of cosmetics in Paris and practiced his profession there until 1912. He then came to Nice, where he has gained an excellent reputation in this smart Riviera resort.

All the experts agree

Leblanc is joined by an international group of authorities on skin care, all of whom advocate Palmolive as the best way to keep the skin healthily radiant, glowing with under-the-surface color and life. Do this, they say: massage Palmolive lather tenderly into the skin for two minutes. Rinse, first with warm water, then with cold. And you're ready for make-up!

Enjoy it for the bath as well, since it costs no more than ordinary soap. Just one bar will assure you of its superiorities. Use it tonight!

Think of it! 17,002 leading beauty experts all over America—in big cities, small towns, smart resorts—advise the twice-daily use of Palmolive Soap! No single product ever had such tremendous professional endorsement!
