

Change Minds From Thoughts of War to Thoughts of Peace

Bishop of Winchester in Line With Work of Ramsay MacDonald In Practical Efforts

(Victoria Times)

While Rt. Hon. James Ramsay MacDonald, Prime Minister of Great Britain, was boarding the Berengaria for his visit to the United States in the cause of naval disarmament, the Bishop of Winchester in Victoria was eloquently urging the nations of the world to substitute a reign of law for one of force in international relationships, law based upon mutual respect, goodwill and good faith, instead of upon armaments.

His Lordship's address to the Canadian Club yesterday revealed not only his earnest desire for the success of the mission upon which Mr. MacDonald has embarked, but also his intimate understanding of the principles which must govern individuals and nations if the peace of the world is to be assured. His definition of that much misunderstood and much misused word "liberty" is worthy of study. He contends that liberty is the fulfillment of the purpose for which we were created, whether in the individual or the nation; and "if we are going to preserve liberty, we must have the deepest regard for liberty's twin sister, law." The Bishop further explained his point.

Problem of Liberty

Our problem is how adequately to combine law with liberty. The reconciliation of efficient government with the liberty of the individual is one of the greatest challenges of the age. And I hope Britain is on the way to lead the world to a solution of this problem.

It is clear that Bishop Woods has not yet been recruited by those who believe that human nature never can be made better, that peace is impossible, that war is inevitable, and that there will be no change in human affairs. "Most of us, I am glad to say," His Lordship proceeded, "believe that this amazing human race has not reached its goal. We are on the staircase and must go higher. We must unite in getting people to change their minds." The Bishop, who naturally combines his vision of a better world with a due regard for human frailties, recognizes that the sacrifices demanded by peace are not small; but his argument is unassailable when he says that the sacrifices of peace "are as nothing to the sacrifices demanded by war."

The church can play a noble part in this campaign of changing the minds of men from thoughts of war to thoughts of peace. If such distinguished religious leaders as the Bishop of Winchester all over the world continue to devote their time and talents to the direction of public thought along these channels, the objective which statesmen such as Premier MacDonald and President Hoover have set for themselves will be reached.

Lecture On South Sea Islands Last Night Interesting

Many interesting personal experiences in the southern hemisphere were recalled by Rev. Dr. R. M. Stevenson in giving a lecture last night in First Presbyterian Church on the subject, "Head Hunters of the South Sea Islands." A large crowd was in attendance and followed Dr. Stevenson's account with keen attention. He spoke for about an hour and a half.

The program also included vocal solos by Mrs. James Waugh and Alex Clapperton, with John E. Davey, accompanist.

W. W. C. O'Neill presided.
