ATTENTION, MR. SHELLY!

The Minister of Finance has doubtless expressed to a Macdonald. number of local people appreciation of the appearance of Prince Rupert and the progress that has been made here. If he has not done so he is different from other politicians. We hope that the local people whom he met have ceeded in getting on the statute told him that the roads on which we drive have all been erning pensions for dependent made at our own expense, the provincial government having contributed not one cent toward their construction and upkeep. There is a road, the first section of a very for equal work, minimum wage for hoof Choral Society last week, the fic. important highway, contiguous to the city, which the pro- women workers, soldiers' reestab- president, John W. In view of the lack of appreciation of the position of bathy and understanding to bring Prince Rupert in the past, great things are expected in the better things about for these future. Prince Rupert people are becoming desperate and countries where such appalling are determined they are going to have that road, even if conditions exist. they have to turn into rebels in order to obtain it.

Perhaps it would be wise to let Mr. Shelly know that ever that they have had federal the people of northern and central British Columbia are seriously considering forming a new province, so that they other kind of fathers, but like may be able to look after their own affairs and build their Topsy, they never had a mother, own roads. Such treatment as Prince Rupert is receiving of the world be called in and is forcing forward this movement, which we are glad to woman's viewpoint brought to note is gaining in impetus every day. While in the past bear on the work of the League it has been spoken of lightly, today it is being seriously of Nations in promoting peace and considered.

FIGHTING FOR ITS RIGHTS

For many years western Canada had to fight for its the league, eager for peace, are place in the sun. Sir Richard McBride stood up in the studying the causes of war that it conference of premiers in the east and made a dramatic may be prevented. Today the west is help better understand each being recognized as of some importance and a part of other. Canada to be seriously considered.

The scene of conflict is changed. Now it is the northern part of British Columbia that is struggling for a chise Mrs. Smith said: "Politics are second only to religion. Women place in the sun. It has been bled by the south until it is want to see in the political life of almost dry and a very little has been returned. Today this country candidates for office the north is kising. There is a consciousness among the who are worthy and know what people that they have the real wealth of the province and they stand for. Women should that it is being used by the south. The timber of Queen and desire for public office, after Charlotte Islands is being carried away and nothing left their families have grown up, to in it's place. The minerals of the north are being exploited go out into the larger home of the by the south and the fisheries are also being handled in a nation and help, with their similar manner. Everything goes south. Even the woman's understanding to carry canned salmon is not allowed to be shipped from Prince on its affairs." Rupert.

When the new province is formed, all this will be of women and children, home and changed. Prince Rupert will then get a road and Stewart country we never anticipated geta railway and Smithers and Prince George and all the ting in the short time women have other places will get full returns for the money collected. It is time for a change.

Let Mr. Shelly consider this and perhaps he will realize that there is something coming to northern British Columbia. Very soon it will be too late. It will need only through the ballot. another year of two of the present treatment to make the people of the north so determined that nothing will stor decisive action on their part.

COMPETITION ENDS NEXT WEEK

The suggestions for improving conditions in northern and central British Columbia have mostly been along one line. The building of a highway and the formation of a new province. While some valuable suggestions have been made, the last word has not been said and there is still plenty of room for others.

The competition will, end definitely on Saturday of next week, after which the articles will be judged.
