Deal With Any Bomber, Says Henderson
The Superior Bomber

OTTAWA — Great Britain has a jet fighter in production that is faster than the American F-86 Sabre or the Russian MiG-15, Air Secretary Arthur Henderson told the House of Commons Wednesday.

The plane is the Hawker P1067, which is in excess of the F-86, therefore, would need to fly at least 700 miles per hour.

Henderson said the Hawker will "deal with any bomber likely to be in service for some time to come."

Air Secretary also said the new four-jet bomber is bigger, faster, capable of higher altitudes and able to carry bigger bomb loads than successful British twin-jet bombers.

Extract
Oxide at Plant Here

Cellulose Co. is going to extract sulphur dioxide from pyrites at its Watson Island pulp mill. One of the sulphur burners within the plant is about to be converted to a pyrite burner of 75 capacity. The conversion is a major undertaking, and is expected to be completed by the end of the year. The production of sulphur dioxide here will be the present importance of this material from Texas. The plant comes as a unit and involves to extract an assembly job. The cellulose mill will bring pyrites to Watson Island in the Britannia mine in Sound near Vancouver. It is similar ore closer at which as that which exists in the Coastal River, but as far as is known, there has been no negotiation for a plant from that quarter.

The soldiers, members of the Second Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, will be tried separately this month in Korea.

Will Forego UK Interest

OTTAWA (CP) — The government announced Wednesday night that it will recommend to Parliament this fall that Canada forego for another three years interest on the balance outstanding from a $700,000,000 wartime loan to the United Kingdom. The balance is now $250,000,000.

This decision, a Department of Finance statement said, resulted in discussions between the governments of Canada and the United Kingdom. Legislation to implement it will be introduced at the fall session of Parliament.

A $700,000,000 loan was extended in 1942 as funding of advances made to the British government in a period preceding under wartime arrangements for mutual aid.

Halibut Boat Survivors Safe Here After Losing Vessel by Fire in North

Four survivors of the Vancouver halibut boat Hilsen, who had a close call when the vessel caught fire and sank off Forrester Island, Alaska, Sunday, reached here yesterday afternoon on the Princess Norah from the north.

They are:

- Alfred Carlson of Digby Island.
- Einar Hanberg of Prince Rupert.
- Peter Ivarson of Vancouver.

Arne Ivarson, Vancouver, transferred them to the Leading Lady on which they were taken to Ketchikan at noon Monday.

The four had only 45c in their pockets but Paul M. Hansen, Ketchikan merchant, advanced funds which enabled them to remain at Ketchikan until money was received from home.

Skipper Peter Ivarson did not even have his coat.

After three hours afloat, they were picked up by an American halibutter Denny Joe which

LONDON — The British government ordered an end today to its ban on industrial strikes and lock-outs, a wartime measure carried over for six years by the Socialist administration.

Voluntary bargaining between unions and employers' federations will continue with a new industrial disputes tribunal to settle the issue if the bargainers cannot agree.

The Samana and Santiago Railroad of Haiti reaches neither Samana nor Santiago.

Search Is Unavailing

JUNEAU — Neither air or surface craft have been able to find any trace of life raft or life jackets which a United States Air Force plane thought had spotted Monday night while engaged in the search for the big Tokyo-bound Canadian Pacific Air Lines plane which disappeared July 21 with 38 persons aboard.

The United States Coastguard cutter Storis made a wide sweep of the area thirty miles south of Yakutat but reported "negative results," the Royal Canadian Air Force announced.

Planes also combed the area without result.

Twenty-one aircraft participated yesterday in the hunt for the missing plane, two more than the day before, but again without success.

Tube Speeds Ottawa News

OTTAWA — A 1,500-foot underground journey by pneumatic tube will speed up the dissemination of news from the nation's capital by the telegraph services of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways. The tube, running from the parliamentary press gallery in the House of Commons to the main transmission offices of the two companies, was officially opened in a short ceremony.

Participating at the opening were Paul Paradis, president of the press gallery, J. T. Tattersall, general agent Canadian Pacific communications department, and F. Richens, manager Canadian National telegraphs.

The tube will carry press copy from correspondents covering parliament to either office in 60 seconds and replaces the branch offices of the two companies in the Commons building. In eliminating the former system of delivery by hand it is estimated that a minimum of 5 minutes on the average will be saved in the movement of copy from point to point.

Following an existing underground heating tunnel, the pneumatic tube travels under the House of Commons to the east block of parliament, then south under Wellington Street and beneath another government building before it terminates in the offices of the communications companies. Actually there are four tubes, two in each direction, totalling some 7,000 feet, and they will also carry private telegrams to and from both members of parliament and senators.

Four electrically driven air compressors supply the pressure to carry the message containers through the tubes.

Jumps 3.5 Points In June to Mark of 187.6

OTTAWA (CP) — Sharp increases in the price of food boosted the cost-of-living index by 3.5 points in June to a new high of 187.6 from 184.1, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

The 3.5 climb was one point below the record monthly jump of 4.5 last February. The index is based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100.

Prices rose for meat, eggs and fresh vegetables, the bureau said.

Toughen Up Navy Gets On Prisoners Helicopters

LONDON (Reuters) — British prisons are taking a get-tough line with bad-acting prisoners.

The pendulum is swinging away from super-kindness to criminals. In the words of one penal expert, bread and water is being used instead of milk and water.

A recent report from a Home Office committee set up to investigate prison discipline made two main criticisms of existing conditions:

1. Discipline in general needed "tightening," even at the risk of increasing the number of punishments.
2. The policy of leniency, appeasement or soft treatment "as at present interpreted is not having the success expected or desired."

Home Secretary James Chuter Ede told the House of Commons recently that many of the committee's suggestions for remedying the situation were already being enforced. Others would require legislation which would be brought before the House in due course.

One of the committee's suggestions was to reintroduce as a punishment the use of "restricted diet No. 1"—bread and water. Ede said this would be done in extreme cases.

The committee suggested "restricted diet No. 2"—which now is bread, water, porridge and potatoes—be used more widely once dieticians had worked out a substitute "equally-unpleasant" diet which would be more nutritious. Ede said his medical advisers had the plan in hand.

The committee — headed by schoolteacher H. W. F. Franklin — also wanted to smarten up the appearance and manners of boys in reform schools.

The report has "touched off a hot controversy among penal experts and the correspondence columns of the London Times are filled with letters from those who approve the get-tough policy and those who feel it is only a step back toward the Middle Ages.

WEATHER

Synopsis
Another weak outbreak of cool Pacific air was heading toward the British Columbia coast this morning and is expected to cause some shower activity over the north coast. Some cloudiness is expected on the south coast tomorrow morning and temperatures will be a little cooler on the south coast and in the southern interior. Also some cloudiness and a few showers are looked for in the northern interior tomorrow. However, it appears very unlikely that the system will be active enough to cause precipitation in southwestern B.C. and the drought now entering its 50th day seems destined to continue.

Forecast
North Coast Region — Cloudy today and Friday. Sunny intervals both afternoons. A few showers today. Little change in temperature. Winds light. Low tonight and high tomorrow — At Port Hardy, Sandspit and Prince Rupert, 50 and 62.

Most of the world's wool, according to the National Geographic Society, comes from the southern hemisphere.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Canadian fisheries authorities fear a Japanese invasion of the British Columbia salmon grounds. The Japanese peace treaty to be signed at San Francisco next month makes no provision for fisheries protection.

Iran Parley Deferred

LONDON (CP) — The British government today ordered a special plane to stand by to carry a cabinet mission to Iran for oil talks — and then postponed the flight.

Spokesman for Lord Privy Seal Richard R. Stokes, who is head of the mission, refused to say whether there had been a hitch in the projected negotiations.

The Foreign Office was evidently awaiting clarification from Iran on one or two points concerning the proposed talks.
