Mrs. Forbes
Makes Butter

She calls it Economy Butter, and it is well named, considering the quantity she gets, and the low cost of the extra butter. To half a pound of butter add one SMALL tin of Pacific Milk, in which has been dissolved a small pinch of baking soda.

Whip 'till the butter has all been taken up and allow to set gradually in a cool place.

It makes almost a pound of butter--good butter, too.

Many will thank Mrs. Forbes for her kindness, as we do.

Spectators at the Salt Lake on Sunday are still talking about the wonderful diving by Prescott who carried off second prize in the high diving contest. His jack-knife leaps were done in perfect form and the crowd cheered heartily when Duncan and he had to go up a fourth time in order to settle the tie. There are very few swimmers in Prince Rupert who can give such a first class exhibition of a new and rather novel way of leaving the board. The person seems to float through the air and straightens out just before entering the water.

J. Day Bell has intimated that he would be very willing to start a life saving class at the Salt Lake. Those interested should communicate with him and although there is not much time left this season, still much can be done. Many people can swim, but there are very few who know how to help another when under difficulties. Not everyone without the proper knowledge would wish to tackle a man who is struggling to get a hold of you as he is sinking. There is a correct way and it is a most valuable thing for every swimmer to know. Young boys learn quickly and soon become proficient in the art of life saving.

The following are the names of the powerful team who challenged the field at the Labor Day sports. The Deep Sea Fishermen proved very decidedly that it was just as easy to pull men as struggling halibut. The octave comprised E. Mickelson (anchor), E. Winther, John Knutsen, E. Hansen, J. Byrne, H. Laxo, Charles Wallace and A. Woie.

In the football game on Monday afternoon between Scotland and England, Danny Main who was playing back for the Scotchmen had the misfortune to cut his nose severely. He headed the ball at the same time as the English forward kicked it. The sole of the rose defender's boot scraped Danny's proboscis and for a time blood was running fast. He didn't stop, however, but played a good position as back throughout the rest of the match.

The race between the Alice B. and the coxwainless four was cancelled on the morning of the Labor Day sports. Both craft appeared on the harbor but apparently the judges were unable to arrange to stage the event and the next minute the Alice B. was seen going out the harbor in the direction of Digby Island with a crowd of picnickers aboard.

Great amusement was provided for those standing on the dock watching the waterfront sports on Monday morning during the gear setting contest. Many fish were brought up on the hooks but were quickly snapped off as they came to the side of the boat. There was certainly no time wasted in the rather painful experience of extracting the hooks.

There seems to be little chance now that the Japanese baseball team which was expected from Vancouver will arrive to battle with the local nine. H. Mochida who returned from Vancouver a few days ago reported to the boys here that many of the crack players on the southern team had now moved away and others of them were on the sick list.

COLTS BEAT REDS ON MONDAY EVENING

Following the game on Labor Day the Colts challenged the Red Sox to a game on the Market Square and they beat the winners of the afternoon game to the tune of 11 to 0. Both teams were practically the same except that the Colts had a new pitcher in Howard Frizzell and Willie Mitchell played third base instead of J. Fotos who replaced Geo. Shaw in the field. The boys were not satisfied with the result of the afternoon when they lost by a few errors in the third inning. After their blow-up they played an excellent game of ball and scored 3 whilst they held the Red Sox down to nil. Many fans thought that if the game had prolonged through the nine innings it is very likely that the younger boys would have caught up.

Mrs. Adams of Port Essington arrived on a brief visit to the city by the train last evening.
