N.Y. Giants Nearing Top

NEW YORK — New York's relentless Giants stormed to within one game of the National League leading Brooklyn Dodgers last night, defeating Philadelphia 5 to 1 while Boston Braves handed the faltering Brooks two shocking setbacks 6 to 3 and 14 to 2 in a sudden turn of events that left the Dodgers in a position where they must win four of five games to clinch the flag provided, the Giants win their three.

In Boston the New York Yankees moved a stride nearer to clinching the American League pennant without lifting a finger while their scheduled game with Philadelphia Athletics was rained out. Cleveland and Boston Red Sox were both beaten to make it easier for New York. Washington blanked the Red Sox 2 to 0 and Chicago White Sox upset the Indians 4 to 2 to drop the Tribe three games behind the Yankees.

Jets Battle In Korea

Greatest Fight in History
UN HEADQUARTERS, Korea — Allied pilots today destroyed or damaged 14 Communist planes over northwest Korea in history's greatest day of all-jet battles.

There were 256 jets in action. This number dwarfed all previous jet actions for a single day. Seventy-seven allied jets tangled with 120 Russian-type MIGs in a roaring duel this morning over northwest Korea's MIG alley.

The U.S. Fifth Air Force said its pilots probably destroyed one Red jet and damaged four. It said no allied planes were lost.

Reduce Living Standards to Stop Inflation

OTTAWA — Finance Minister Abbott last night rejected demands for price controls to fight inflation and said a temporary reduction in living standards is the "real price" Canadians must pay for freedom and security.

In criticizing the CCF party, Abbott recalled the radio address of M. J. Coldwell last week and said the CCF leader wants controls over everything—"except things which directly affect those people whose support he hopes to gain."

Even in the Second World War, said Abbott in a speech prepared for CBC free-time political program, "Nation's Business," price ceilings played only a small part in the government's inflation attack. Two outstanding weapons were, a tough taxation policy and an intense saving program.

If the government now was to pursue a similar program, taxes would jump and the government's revenue would have to be at least $800,000,000 or $900,000,000 more than at present.

He said government assistance to fight inflation was necessary but governments alone could not defeat it. Restraint was needed by all groups in Canada in respect of prices and profits, wages, hours of work, spending and saving.

Highway Re-location No Formidable Job

Minister of Public Works Explains it Would Be Small Section Proposition

TERRACE (Special to the Daily News)—The re-location of Highway 16 in the lower Skeena Valley where it skirts the Canadian National Railways along the right-of-way should not be such a formidable undertaking as might have been inferred from a statement he made at Prince Rupert this week, said Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of public works, here last night.

Industries Expanding

In addition to the Cellulose and Aluminum enterprises at the tributary to Prince Rupert, there are other undertakings which mean further development and employment on extensive scales for British Columbia. These include a huge re-building by the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co., expansion of the Telesquah and Big Bull mines in northern B.C., large power expansion on the Pend O'Reille River, heavy tungsten operations at Salmo, expansion program at Powell River and Nanaimo and scheduled for completion next June is the pulp mill at Duncan Bay being built by the Canadian Western Lumber and Crown Zellerbach companies.

There is no intention to take the highway completely away from the river with a long 22-mile detour through the mountains.

Instead, the re-location should be "quite a simple procedure," carrying the highway away from the railway for a number of short sections at points where there is not sufficient room between the railway and the highway to prevent snow being plowed off the railway on to the highway or vice versa.

There is no such difficulty on this highway as in the Fraser Canyon. "In fact, there are no serious physical difficulties," he said.

As well as moving the highway, there might be points where the railway might be re-located, Mr. Carson suggested, emphasizing that full co-operation of the railway was apparent.

TERRACE IN FAVOR

Mr. Carson said that he found people here had seen in Terrace thoroughly in agreement with the re-location idea, after experiences of past winters with the snow problem. They are anxious to facilitate the keeping of the road open the year round as soon as possible to expedite the movement of logs to the Columbia Cellulose mill at Prince Rupert.

Mr. Carson toured the area up the Kalum Valley and to Lakelse following his arrival from Prince Rupert. He said he was "greatly impressed" with the great industrial development.

The minister also said that he had found the road from Prince Rupert in "very good" condition considering its type.

Mr. Carson addressed a public meeting here last night and left today for Hazelton, Smithers and other interior points.

Italy Must Be Admitted

WASHINGTON, D.C. — President Truman said today that, if Russia continues to block Italian membership in the United Nations, "other ways must be found" to enable Italy to play a "full and equal part" in the upholding of United Nations principles.

The President also reaffirmed United States intentions to try to restore Italy's rights as a free nation by seeking to ease terms of the Italian peace treaty.

WASHINGTON — United States, Britain and France declared their readiness today to lift "permanent restrictions and discriminations" imposed on Italy by its Second World War peace treaty.

(One big result would be to remove treaty limitations on Italian rearmament.)

The three governments also jointly confirmed their determination to make every effort to secure Italy membership in the United Nations, something which has been blocked in the past by Russia's veto.

Allied powers called on other nations which signed the Italian peace treaty five years ago to act in concert with the Big Three.

Looking for Industries

Okanagan towns, particularly Kelowna, are looking for new year-round industries to supplement the seasonal activities of fruit packing and shipping, it is reported by W. H. Derry, city pioneer, who has been revisiting here from Kelowna where he now resides.

There are six packing and cold storage plants at Kelowna, for instance, but in the winter they employ very few people, the consequence being unemployment during that time.

Consequently, people are leaving Kelowna for the centres where permanent employment is to be found.

"Half the houses in Kelowna are for sale today on account of people leaving," said Mr. Derry.

Mr. and Mrs. Derry, after having been guests here since last Friday of Mrs. G. W. Rudderham, are leaving on this evening's train for Prince George to visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rush, for two or three weeks before returning to Kelowna.

Committee Chairman McMahon disclosed the Army's position in a brief statement. "The Army attaches a high significance to its work, looking towards atomic energy exploitation on the battlefield in case of war," according to a statement by Secretary Pace.

McMahon added that it was "made plain that future Army tactical requirements for atomic materials will be very substantial in quantity. Pace was also disclosed to have urged that "all fissionable material should be produced as soon as practicable."

Old Age Pension?

A 30-YEAR-OLD boiler hangs on to serve a hospital, "but for how long?" asks an enthusiastic campaign committee for the Prince Rupert General Hospital Modernization Fund.

Who Will Be First? Asks Campaign Chairman

The other day, E. T. Applewhaite, enthusiastic campaign manager for the Prince Rupert General Hospital Modernization Fund, pointed to two individual pictures in the brochure the campaign committee has published.

"And to think that the boiler plant has lasted so long." He was surprised, and so are many of the people who are closely connected with the operation of the hospital.

In a recent radio appeal, Father J. Rayner spoke of the hospital as being afflicted with gastric troubles—a sick heating plant.

"Now anyone knows," he pointed out, "that a man can't do efficient work if there is something wrong with his physical condition." And just so, he compared the condition of the hospital.

But this condition, and the fact that empty wards are remaining idle while overcrowding is prevalent, is expected by Mr. Applewhaite to be remedied soon.
