Keremeos Religious Sect Ready For World's End

KEREMEOS (P)-Thirty members of a religious sect, who have sold all their worldly possessions, today await the end of the world.

In a locked, shuttered house, the group, all dressed in white, has been in self-imposed confinement for eleven days. They are members of the "Church of God" who broke away from the Pentecostal Tabernacle here.

The elders have made no public statement but friends say they are waiting for the end of the world, basing their belief on Biblical prophecy.

The group includes women and children. Some are students Leaders of the sect have told their followers that the world will end next Tuesday.
