LATE MRS. SANDERSON WAS LAID TO REST AT PORT SIMPSON

Party Go From Prince Rupert to Pay Last Respects to Wife of Local Captain.

Yesterday afternoon in the southwest corner of the Anglican churchyard at Port Simpson, which is beautifully situated on the hillside overlooking the fair harbor, a small group of Prince Rupert visitors gathered around a newly dug grave, to pay their last tribute of respect to the memory of Mrs. Sanderson, wife of Captain E. Sanderson of the trawler Geo. E. Foster. A simple service was conducted by Dr. Spencer of Port Simpson, assisted by the Rev. J. B. Rowell of the First Baptist Church of Prince Rupert.

After five years of the most painful illness, Mrs. Sanderson, who had been in the Port Simpson Hospital since May of this year, passed away early on Wednesday morning. The party of mourners, consisting of the most intimate friends of Captain and Mrs. Sanderson, left Prince Rupert yesterday morning on the "F. H. Phippen" which the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. had kindly placed at the disposal of Captain Sanderson for the sad occasion. Shortly after their arrival at Port Simpson the funeral service was held in the hospital. The casket, which was covered with flowers, was carried all the way from the hospital to the churchyard by the pallbearers, where the deceased was laid to rest.

Accompanying the Prince Rupert party to the grave were Dr. Large, of the Port Simpson hospital, several of the hospital staff and Mr. John Flewin. The pallbearers were Jim Thomas, Geo. Wilson, J. Myhill Jones, W. Williamson, Chris Elkins and J. B. Rowell. Among the floral tributes sent, those from the Sons of England, the Adair Carss Chapter I. O. D. E., the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co., the crew of the "Geo. E. Foster," the school children of Port Simpson, and the hospital staff were noticeable for their beauty. The funeral arrangements were in the hands of the B. C. Undertakers.

The "Phippen" brought Captain Sanderson and his party back to the city last evening.

Trite Talks on Girl Subjects
BY AUNT JIMMIE

"Is your whole object in life to attract men?"
"Of course it is. Its the sole object of nine women out of ten."
The above is a snatch of conversation taken from the new book "Mufti" by "Sapper," otherwise Cyril McNeile. It set me thinking. Not having an opinion of my own to offer and being an old maid and therefore one not supposed to have an opinion worth anything, I set out to find out how my younger friends viewed it.

Most of them had never thought of the matter, but they were pretty well agreed that it was true. They lived very largely to attract men.

They dressed for men, they walked for men, they talked for men and they even ate for men. They endured dinners that otherwise they would have discarded, just because they thought it would please their male companions to eat with them.

There was Kitty, for instance. She is one of those fair girls with the blue eyes and a freckle or two, just enough to lend charm. She remarked:

"Oh you silly! Were you never young? I live for men. They interest me all the time. Some of them I hate, some of them I just love, and some of them are nice to go out with, but to none of them am I indifferent. Even the old and the obese, the ugly and awkward are interesting. By the by, old thing, are there any really ugly men? I never knew of one. They all have their peculiar attractions. Men for mine, my old auntie. Give me plenty of men and I really live. What else is there worth anything in this life?"

Kitty was the most enthusiastic and outspoken, but from the conversations with the others I should say that all were much alike only some were less frank in their expression.

EMPLOYERS

THE
EMPLOYMENT SERVICE
OF CANADA

The PROFESSIONAL and BUSINESS SECTION has been established to assist professional, business and technical men and women.

Many officers, soldiers, sailors and war workers, who sacrificed their positions during the war, now desire to secure employment in the occupations for which they have been specially trained.

Employers should not wait until increasing business forces them to employ anybody they can obtain, but should look ahead and avail themselves of this unusual opportunity to enlist the services of highly trained workers, ordinarily secured only with difficulty. On application there can be referred to you, for example:—

ENGINEERS	LAW CLERKS
ARCHITECTS	COMMERCIAL ARTISTS
BUSINESS EXECUTIVES	SALES MANAGERS
ACCOUNTANTS	TRAVELLING SALESMEN
SECRETARIES	CHEMISTS
TEACHERS	YOUNG COLLEGE GRADUATES

These workers are returning to civil occupations with increased initiative, a broader view of life, and a greater capacity for work.

Gene Byrnes Says:—"Thanks for the Advice."

WILL YOU COME IN AND HELP ME PICK OUT A HAT?

SURE!

I THINK THIS DERBY IS THE REAL THING—WHAT DO YOU THINK ABOUT IT?

I DON'T LIKE IT—TRY SOME OF THOSE SOFT HATS.

NOW THERE'S A HAT THAT REALLY BECOMES YOU—IT'S REAL CLASS.

I DUNNO—I SORTA LIKE THE DERBY.

OR EVEN THAT'S A BETTER LOOKING BONNET THAN THE DERBY—A DERBY IS AN OLD MAN'S HAT—GET WISE.

I DUNNO—I SORTA LIKE THE DERBY.

CAN IT—IT MAKES YOU LOOK SIXTY-FIVE YEARS OLD—THERE'S NO CLASS TO IT—TAKE THE SECOND HAT YOU TRIED ON.

THANKS FOR THE ADVICE.
