BRIDE'S FATHER SPEAKS UP

Advices on important subject
As a mere I told my daughter, "Remember what your mother and grandmother use to keep their washing white—Reckitt's Blue in the rinse will keep your white clothes really white." "Trust Dad to give good advice!" she said later, "Reckitt's Blue prevents clothes turning yellow, and out of the blue comes the whitest wash."

Negro Show is Coming to City.

Harmony Kings, celebrated negro vocal troupe, in the course of a tour which will take them to Honolulu, will be in Prince Rupert for two concerts in the Civic Centre May 7. Their advance agent, O. L. Elliott, is due here within the next few days to confer with Civic Centre Director Don Forward on details of their show.

Whether there will be two evening shows or one evening show and a matinee for students will be decided following the arrival of Mr. Elliott.

The Harmony Kings are not merely a singing group but have many novelty numbers. They originally made their debut with Horace Held's Orchestra, and have become acclaimed among the most versatile group of entertainers in the United States.

No Charge at Unusual Hotel

GOOSE BAY, Labrador—Perhaps the most unusual hotel in the world is the one at Goose Bay, Labrador, which does not charge guests one penny for its $18-a-day type of service. Furthermore, its seven owners cheerfully operate at a 100 per cent loss.

Goose Bay is operated jointly by seven international airlines and is managed by Trans-Canada. Primarily, this inn is set up to provide accommodation for trans-Atlantic air passengers passing through Goose Bay, which alternates with Gander as an important cross-road of the world air lanes.

Located but a few miles from the Hudson Bay post on Lake Melville, Goose Bay developed during the war as a strategic military base. Today this Labrador airport is familiar to thousands of travelers who fly to North Atlantic. From there, planes take off for New York, Paris, Shannon, London, Reykjavik, Montreal, Amsterdam and Copenhagen.

When flights are delayed the hotel converted from an RCAF building and accommodating 17 persons, features good beds, comfortable lounge, recreation facilities and excellent hot meals. A 12-minute ride from the landing strip, it is staffed by a trained crew, which gives professional service under the guidance of James Lortie, who has wide experience in hotel management in Europe and the West Indies.

Private plane passengers landing in Goose Bay also can use this hotel, but it costs them $18 a day, as opposed to the gratis hospitality extended commercial airlines passengers at this unusual inn under the Aurora borealis.

Listed to call on the Prince Rupert, Capt. William Eccles, this evening for Vancouver are Mrs. H. B. MacNaughton, Mr. and Mrs. P. Hemsworth and children, K. L. McKenzie, Miss Jeanne Faure, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Geddes and baby, A. R. Belanger, R. Maloney, W. Smith, A. Barge, H. Stark, Miss M. Miller, Mr. Alphonse, Mr. Planufe, Mrs. G. Varfeldt, A. G. Grant, Mrs. M. Wilkins and son, Dennis.

Little Theatre Play Enjoyed

"Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" Acceptable Entertainment

The Prince Rupert Little Theatre pulled another evening of "entertainment out of their hat" last night.

The three-act comedy, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" presented in the Civic Centre, drew hearty laughs from an appreciative audience.

Mainstays of the play were Marion Thomas as Emily Kimbrough, and Elizabeth Holmes as Cornelia Otis Skinner.

The audience was won by Mrs. Thomas, whose facial expressions brought out her character which was well sustained throughout.

In good contrast with Mrs. Thomas was the lead part of Miss Holmes, played with a fair sense of character. Her handling of a sick scene aboard the boat was especially convincing.

Smooth acting was noted in the scene between Miss Holmes and Don Leitch in Act Two. Mr. Leitch played one of two young medical students, Lee McEvoy.

Humorously portraying McEvoy as a love-sick swain, Mr. Leitch handled the difficult part of love-making. He had natural stage timing.

Despite the last part of Act Two's almost complete stage darkness, the audience were grinning broadly with satisfaction by intermission. Although attempt was made to direct light upon the stage through the ship's porthole, more could have been afforded. For nearly five minutes of lively acting, the audience was unable to see even the forms of the actresses, or enough of the stage to compel attention.

Such voices as the opening lines of Dr. Duncan Black's playing Otis Skinner were welcomed, although towards the end Mr. Black's voice might have sounded somewhat strained. While Mrs. Skinner, played by Sheila Chater, set key lines, such as the one which indicated the safety pocket at the beginning, by talking too softly.

Difficulty in understanding the English accents of the two "aunt-girls," Harriet St. John and Winifred Blough portrayed by Margaret Doiron and Diane Kennedy, respectively, lost their introduction to the audience. Although their subsequent zest for their parts were pleasing.

The heavy burden of acting two parts was carried by Ernest Milgram. He seemed to give better portrayal in his Monsieur de la Croix character, than the part of the Admiral, in which a certain pomposity might have helped.

In their second performance tonight, the cast of 17 should again please the audience as they take them for a holiday boat trip to Paris.

Make-up was well handled, being particularly suited to Monsieur de la Croix and Otis Skinner. Miss Skinner's bitten upper lip in the bed-bug scene carried reality but a little more color

Plead Guilty To Car Thefts

Two local boys, whose arrest came during a midnight ride up the Skeena Highway Tuesday, were charged in city police court yesterday afternoon with theft of two automobiles. They pleaded guilty before Magistrate W. D. Vance and were remanded for sentence.

The arrest of the boys came after the removal of a taxi car, owned by Cliff Dahl and driven by James Moran, which disappeared Tuesday night from in front of Moran's home at 329 Second Avenue West.

Moran at 11 p.m. noticed the car was gone and immediately notified the police. Terrace police were advised and Constable Ted Brue intercepted the car about half-way between Prince Rupert and Terrace. Local police headed for the interior and picked up the car and the boys, bringing them back to the city.

Taxi sign on the roof of the car and the radio microphone had been torn off.

The boys also admitted having taken a half-ton pickup belonging to Northwest Construction Co., on April 4. This car had been found deserted about half-way up the Skeena Highway.

After receiving the plea of the boys, the magistrate commented on the seriousness of the offence and told them they could be sentenced up to 10 years.
