Many Prominent

Visitors Here.

There might well have been a cabinet meeting here yesterday when three of the cabinet ministers and the Lieut.-Governor of the province were in the city at the same time. It is an indication of the renewed interest in this part of the country that so many prominent people come here. No sooner does one party leave than another comes.

We welcome all these people, for it is through the interest they take in the place that we get thoroughly advertised and that we attract business people who are ready to put their money in here. We cannot live to ourselves. We have to get outsiders interested in the place in order that their money and their enthusiasm may help us. Cities are built that way.

There has been some disposition in certain quarters in the past to try to live insulated. No one was encouraged to come here. The result was clearly shown in the four years of stagnation during which Prince Rupert went to seed while other places were making great progress. What we need more than anything else just now is plenty of the big interests to push us along. They he Application No. 11,044-L. File 6,198, from Masset, Port Clements and can do it and they will if we make it worth their while.

Foreign Trade of Prince Rupert Begins.

The foreign commerce of Prince Rupert really commences in the City of Prince Rupert, more with the visit of the "War Company" to this port. She is a big | Seven (7), Block twenty-five (25), Section vessel, built in British Columbia and will carry the name of the province all over the world. Her visit, it is to be hoped, will be vice of this notice (which may be effected followed by many others. Ships should come here from south, your attention is called to section 36 of east and west. They will before long and we shall look back and to the following extract therefrom with wonder and complacency at the time when, strange to say, not an ocean-going vessel plied out of this port. It will be curious and our grand children will hardly believe us when we tell them about it.

For Attention Of Ministers.

Now that the Minister of Finance is here, the man who has to stand behind the Minister of Public Works who was here last week, it might be well to draw his attention to the fact that we are unable to take him for a drive beyond the confines of the city. | AND WHEREAS application has been To be explicit, there is no road beyond the city limits. Nine miles away there is a townsite known as Port Edward where there with is a cannery and where the owners of the city lots pay taxes every year under pain of sale if they refuse, and yet they cannot come you were the assessed owner thereof to Prince Rupert except by water or by train. There is no road same time I shall effect registration pursuance of such application and issue connecting these two points.

To the Minister of Education we also would point out that you take and prosecute the proper pro we have to build a big school on the hill. People are coming to the said lands, or to prevent such pro here but improvements are expensive. The school will be very DATED at the Land Registry omce costly. We hear of other places getting aid for their schools and August, A.D., 1919. doubtless it is the intention of the Provincial Government to do the same here, but now is a good time to think about it. The minister will see the difficulties we have in constructing sewers DRAINAGE, DYKING & DEVELOPMENT ACT and streets, and if the burden on the school building can be lightened it will be a great help to us.

Andrew Carnegie

One of the world's richest men was the son of a poor Scotch weaver. He early learned the advantages of economy. At the age of 10 he saved a few shillingsenough to buy a box of oranges-which he quickly peddled at a profit of 100

While yet a young man, he managed through thrift to accumulate $500, which he invested. His first dividend inspired the remarkable achievements of later years.

But the seed of his prosperity was sown when he began his first savings.
