TERRACE TOPICS

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Smith and daughters drove into town on Tuesday afternoon on their return from a three weeks' holiday spent in the southern part of the province, the northwestern States, Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Mrs. William Richmond and children of Burns Lake arrived in town on Thursday's train to visit with relatives here.

Mrs. James Lever and young daughter have returned from a visit to Telkwa.

Patrons at the Tuesday and Wednesday show at the Tillicum Theatre were most interested to see on the Pathe News, pictures of the Terrace logging operations for the Columbia Cellulose as well as the operations of the Celanese plant at Watson Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Webb left last Monday by car for Chilliwack, having been called south by the serious illness of Mr. Webb's mother, who passed away late on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Webb, Sr., was a sister of Mr. W. C. Osborne.

Mrs. M. Simpson left with Mrs. Lemon and young son, Michael, on Wednesday's bus to reside in Prince Rupert. Her home here will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Nichols. Mr. Nichols is the CNR lumber and pole inspector.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Cruikshank, who were married the previous Saturday in Vancouver, arrived in town last week to stay with Mr. Cruikshank's brother-in-law, Dr. Ken MacPherson. Accompanying them was Mr. Cruikshank, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Hunter, accompanied by their daughter, Miss Audrey Hunter, R.N., and Miss Lillian Randall, R.N., of Vancouver, spent a short while in Terrace on Tuesday.

Dudley Little returned on Tuesday from Vancouver where he has been on business, coming by the air from the south to Prince Rupert.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hayter of Salmon Arm drove into Terrace on Monday afternoon on a business trip from the south.

Dr. and Mrs. Gerald May were entertained by the staff of the home for the Aged at a large farewell party on Saturday evening in the recreation room of the Home.

Fred Baker is spending the week at Kalum Lake in the employ of Joe Hart.

Was Here During World War Two

Marion Freeman, who will be remembered in Prince Rupert, died in Vancouver late last week, burial being in Everett, Washington. In the second great war, Mr. Freeman supervised, for the B.C. Bridge Co., installations for the U.S. Army at Prince Rupert. Other projects on which he worked in B.C. included pulp mills at Fort Alberni, Powell River and Nanaimo.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hagen, daughter Barbara and Mr. Hagen, Sr., left on Saturday by car for a month's holiday trip in the south.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Hunter, accompanied by their daughter, Miss Audrey Hunter, R.N., and Miss Lillian Randall, R.N., of Vancouver, spent a short while in Terrace on Tuesday.

Dudley Little returned on Tuesday from Vancouver where he has been on business, coming by the air from the south to Prince Rupert.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hayter of Salmon Arm drove into Terrace on Monday afternoon on a business trip from the south.

Dr. and Mrs. Gerald May were entertained by the staff of the home for the Aged at a large farewell party on Saturday evening in the recreation room of the Home.

CIVIC HONOR (Continued from page 1)

Great benefit was bound to accrue from the Aluminum Co. of Canada development. One could only guess the extent of production growth and prosperity that was to ensue. But, with the good things, His Honor reminded the gathering, would come the problems that would have to be met.

PRESENTATION
"Prince Rupert is no longer adolescent, it has reached its majority," said J. C. Gilker in making the presentation to Mr. Wallace. "The north, indeed, is coming into its own and it has much to contribute to the total welfare of British Columbia." The Chamber of Commerce president reviewed briefly the significance of the Eagle Crest totem of which he made presentation.

Mr. Wallace promised that the gift would always be greatly treasured. He also promised that he intended to be back in Prince Rupert at the first opportunity.

Merry Up roar In "Dear Brat"

Starring Mona Freeman, Billy De Wolfe, Edward Arnold and Lyle Bettger, "Dear Brat," an hilarious film this Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at Capitol Theatre traces the explosive repercussions following the attempt of a teen-age schoolgirl to apply a course in social science to the unpredictable world beyond the school walls.

The film picks up the "brat" as she is hiring a paroled kidnapper for a family gardener and man-about-the-house. Her intention is to convert him into a pillar of society. But when her father, who is running for re-election, gets wind of the scheme, he reacts violently. Though he has publicly spoken in favor of criminal rehabilitation, he doesn't want the reform staged in his own garden.

With the town in an uproar over the presence of a violent felon in their midst, the Senator desperately looks for a situation that will please both his constituents and his conscience. The brat's boy friend isn't pleased at all. He thinks that her designs on the young parolee are more sentimental than experimental, and the confusion reaches an uproarious high when the police, the parole board and the town banker all try to settle the problem to their own satisfaction.

This merry mixup is resolved in a howling climax that approximately restores peace.

Miss G. Andros and Miss M. Maudie, after a visit to the city, sailed last night by the Prince Rupert for Vancouver enroute back to their home in California. Miss Andros is a niece of Peter Cravetto of this city.

SHIPS AND WATERFRONT

With a passenger list numbering 301 of whom practically all were round-trip tourists, CPR steamer Princess Kathleen, Capt. Graham Hughes, arrived in port at 9 o'clock this morning from Vancouver and sailed at 11 for Skagway and other Alaska points whence she is due here next Sunday morning southbound. The vessel had no passengers for disembarkation at Prince Rupert.

Union steamer Coquilham, Capt. William McCombe, arrived in port at 2:30 yesterday afternoon following her regular voyage to Masset Inlet points and sailed at 8 p.m. for Vancouver and waypoints.

Union steamer Camosun, Capt. John Boden, with good-sized list of passengers and full freight cargo, arrived in port at 5:30 yesterday afternoon from Vancouver and waypoints, sailing at 11 p.m. for Alice Arm, Stewart and other northern points. She is due back here tomorrow morning to sail south at 12 noon.

STAMPEDE WEATHER—Calgary subways and basements were flooded when heavy rain proved too much for the city's sewers. This bus was stalled in one of the subways and 40 passengers had to wait for this makeshift bridge before getting back to dry land. Sgt. Bob Moffat of the Calgary traffic squad helps passengers along the plank. (CP PHOTO)
