INDIAN WIDOW OF ARCHDEACON BACK TO TRIBE

Mrs. McDonald of Dawson Returns to Her People at Peel River.

Dawson, Y. T., Sept. 12.—Mrs. McDonald, widow of the late Archdeacon McDonald, left Dawson on the long journey of 100 miles to the interior to go back to her people and to remain there indefinitely.
Mrs. McDonald is a full blood native Peel River woman. She was married to Mr. McDonald when he was a young missionary in this country. They had several children, including Lieut. Hugh McDonald, who volunteered at Winnipeg and served with distinction through the great war, and died at the close of the war from pneumonia, being survived by a wife and little child. Another son, Kenneth, is with the navy, and a third son, Neil, is a trapper on the Porcupine river. He visited here recently. Archdeacon McDonald lived many years in the Yukon, during which he accomplished the remarkable work of mastering the Takudth Indian language and translating the entire Bible and several hymn books into the native tongue. Those translations are used extensively today by Indians of this realm, and will be used, no doubt, for a long time. Archdeacon McDonald lived for years in Winnipeg after leaving here. After his death, Mrs. McDonald returned to Dawson and has resided here the last four years.

Long Journey.
In making the trip to Peel river Mrs. McDonald will have to walk the full 100 miles overland along the old Indian trail, which is no light task for one of her advanced years. Mrs. McDonald, in her many years of contact with whites has won the esteem of all who knew her. She hopes to join her father's brother in the Peel River country, and says that she does not know when she will return to Dawson, if ever, and that in going back to her native region she hopes to get in the midst of the and where nature supplies many of the wants and where the problem of high cost of living does not press so sorely on those of little means.

AUGUST FISHERIES REPORT TO HAND

During the month of August 13,844,800 pounds of salmon were handled by the canneries of Prince Rupert, and of this quantity 160,219 cases were packed by the cannerymen, says the Vancouver Province. The salmon pack is valued at $692,220. The trawlers landed 895,700 pounds of halibut on the wharves of that city in the same time. Halibut is worth $10 a hundredweight and the total value of the catch is therefore $89,570. Brille comes next with 470,200 pounds valued at $14,106. Other varieties of deep sea fish were landed in smaller quantities, such as red cod, ling cod, grey cod to the value of $1,539, and black cod $2,440. Over 150 cwt. of plaice, costing $465, passed through the hands of the fish packers during the preceding month. The American landings during that period were 17,784 pounds of salmon and 1,192,930 pounds of halibut.

The fishery inspector for district No. 3 reports a small run of humpbacks on the Skeena River, while the cohoes are not coming up to expectations. Word received from Skidegate Inlet indicates that the cohoes are appearing on the bar off the mouth of the inlet, and on the Naas River an extra big run of that variety has been noticed recently heading for their spawning grounds. The average daily catch per boat at Kimsquit on September 5 was 17 cohoes, 18 chums and 14 humpbacks. The run of fall fish on Rivers Inlet has been very poor so far.
