BC Packers To Atlantic

British Columbia Packers has expanded its operations to the Atlantic coast with the purchase of the R. E. Jamieson Co. Ltd. plant at Canso on the northeast coast of Nova Scotia for $1,500,000.

The Canso plant has been processing fish in frozen and smoked form. The company plans to enlarge the off-shore operations of the plant. This will result in increased production of fillets.

A year ago B. C. Packers bought an inshore fishery plant at Clarkes Harbor at the south end of Nova Scotia.

Expansion of their operations in the Nova Scotia fishery is a phase of B. C. Packers' diversification that has been in progress for some years.

Major operations of the company are production and processing of British Columbia fish and shell-fish of many varieties, herring oil and meal, and whaling.

Choral Service Before Funeral

With a choral service in St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral preceding interment in Fairview cemetery, the funeral of Francis H. Partridge, who died at the end of last week, took place Wednesday afternoon. Many friends gathered to pay final tributes of respect and hear Rev. Canon Basil S. Prockter speak in respectful memory of deceased who was active in church life as a member of the Cathedral choir.

Peter Lien presided at the organ and the choir led in singing one hymn "Jerusalem the Golden."

Pallbearers were Keith DeWitt, Fred Conrad, Jack Iber, Lance Rossiter, Wilford Sinclair and Edward Woodward.

... Daily News: ... the medium of your ... I would like to ten- ... appreciation, on behalf of the Civic Centre Association, to all those service clubs and organizations, to the staff of city schools and to interested individuals who supported by words and distribution of tickets the first Alaska Music Trail concert here this year.

Your work was evidenced last night in the good turnout which made Donald Gramm's presentation a success. I have also been instructed by both, Mr. Maxim Schapiro and Mr. Gramm to convey their thanks to you for your enthusiastic response.

With such support we expect the Alaska Music Trail will be a success in Prince Rupert this year.

JOHN STIRN,
Civic Centre Director.
