Opera Duo on Music Trail

Prince Rupert audiences will treat this month end, such as seldom their opportunity to enjoy when Alaska Music presents the opera duo, Tomiko Kanazawa, soprano, and Cesare Curzi, tenor, here November 29.

and at such a special occasion these celebrated artists will bring to their audiences scenes such well-known favorites as "La Traviata" and "Madame Butterfly." Appearing in full costume to add color, Mme. Kanazawa and Mr. Curzi team up for a performance to a real Metropolitan performance.

TOMIKO KANAZAWA

CESARE CURZI

Butterfly. He doesn't act Butterfly—Mr. Curzi has just completed a season with San Francisco Opera, and is a favorite of San Francisco's opera director, Gaetano Merola.

Accompanying the artists is Richard Cumming, young American composer and pianist trained by some of the great teachers of the time, Ernest Bloch, Roger Sessions and Arnold Schoenberg. Mr. Cumming made his official concert debut in San Francisco in 1950. He has played as soloist and accompanying artist in concerts throughout the West with such artists as Martial Singher, Herta Glaz of the Metropolitan Opera, the San Francisco Quartet, Donald Gramm, and recently performed here with Mme. Kanazawa and Mr. Curzi.

Mme. Kanazawa is the wife of the conductor of the Metropolitan, and is a leading lyric soprano of the Pacific, New Orleans and Cincinnati opera companies. She won fame each season for her stirring performances. She recently returned from a performance before Swedish royalty in the Royal Opera House, Stockholm.

Mr. Curzi, who rocketed to fame from an army hospital where he entertained the other patients, has an interesting background. His father and grandfather are in the roofing business and during off times, he helps out with the family business. But the "opera bug" has first call on his time.

Edmonton Ends All Male Rule

EDMONTON — All-male rule of the Edmonton city council is to end in this year's elections when Mrs. T. H. Field becomes the first woman to win a seat on the aldermanic table in the city.

Since 1945 has a woman been on the council, said Mrs. Field. "A woman's viewpoint will be a definite asset to the council. I feel, needs the balance a man can give."

The new "alderwoman's" consultations to the community have been many and varied. She is immediate past president of the Women's Canadian Club; former president of the board of directors of the Victorian Order of Nurses; former chairman of the Alberta division of the League and former chairwoman of the Canadian Red Cross, plus participating in a number of other activities.

Fields made no pre-election promises, but after winning the aldermanic seat said: "Always endeavor to give my utmost to Edmonton and to make worthwhile contribution to the administration of government in this rapidly-growing city."

Life of the late Dr. T. H. Field, eminent Edmonton surgeon, was the mother of two children, a daughter now married to a son who is a student at the University of Alberta.

Mrs. Field came to Edmonton 15 years ago from her former home in London, England.

Engaged by Pierre Monteux, conductor of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, to sing the tenor part in Beethoven's Ninth Symphony, he was acclaimed as a sensation by critics and audience alike.

Known for his sparkling personality and as a tireless worker, Curzi does not forget when he was Corporal Curzi, and often returns to sing for the men in uniform today.

These three artists will combine to bring an outstanding performance to Prince Rupert audiences.

Presentation here is possible through the Alaska Music Trail, sponsored in Prince Rupert by the Civic Centre.

Woman Pastor Serves Parish

PORCUPINE, Ont. — This three-charge parish in northern Ontario's huge Cochrane Presbytery of the United Church of Canada received its first woman minister recently—and the ministers, bush workers, farmers and their families like the idea.

The minister, Rev. Kathleen Christopher, 30, is the daughter of Henry Christopher, a miner at Coniaraum mine.

Sunday is one of her busiest days, with morning service here at 11 o'clock, Sunday School at 2 p.m. and then a 12-mile drive east to Hoyle to get Sunday School started there. Next come regular services at Hoyle and a drive back to Golden City for supper. Later she again sets out to drive 20 miles for the evening service at Cornaught.

Albert Dryland, the parish's clerk of the session, says things have gone "marvelously well." He said Miss Christopher is a wonderful worker and men, women and children have taken to her and to the idea of a woman in the pulpit.

Miss Christopher, one of three women graduates of Emmanuel College, Toronto, who were ordained last spring, says she never was "under judgment," as it were. Everything went smoothly from the first.

Fred Conrad New Head of Church Men

Fred Conrad was elected president of the Presbyterian Men's Club last night.

Duncan McRae is the new vice-president and Andrew Wyatt was elected secretary-treasurer.

Final adoption of the power referendum bylaw was given by city council last night but not without stiff opposition. Voting was three against, four in favor with Ald. T. B. Black, general manager of Northern B. C. Power Co. Ltd., not voting.

Aldermen Harold Whalen, Mike Krueger and Don Fitch opposed the referendum on the grounds that it was "arbitrary" and gave the people no choice.

Referendum will ask people at the December 13 elections whether they are in favor of the B. C. Power Commission supplying power to Prince Rupert following expiration of the power company's franchise in March, 1954.

Ald. Black also spoke against the referendum. He said he was speaking as an alderman, when he said:

"The Public Utilities Commission governs the rates of any private utility company but it does not govern the rates for the B. C. Power Commission. When the Commission's rates are set, you have to accept them. You have no choice, nor any court of appeal.

"The service of the Commission also has suffered in areas where it operates. And I'm sure the Northern B. C. Power Co. can supply power cheaper than the Commission."

Ald. Krueger wanted wording of the referendum changed. He wanted a provision in it whereby the city could negotiate with "any other company" besides the Commission.

Ald. H. M. Daggett, utilities chairman, who introduced the bylaw, would not consider this.

Ald. George Casey called the opposition views "delaying tactics."

Asked Ald. Whalen: "Why is Ald. Daggett then so inconsistent? He has a bargaining clause in the telephone referendum."

The telephone referendum asks citizens whether the city shall open negotiations "with Automatic Electric (Canada) Ltd. or any other company."

Ald. Daggett said he did not word the telephone bylaw.

Before the late Ernest Fred Read became employed by the local theatres, he was in the service of the Pacific Fisheries and the B. C. Fisheries in 1911 and 1912, and for a while he worked for the Post Office. After this he became permanently identified with the theatres.

His home was in or near Grimsby, England. He was a nephew of Sir Geo. Moody, prominent in the fishing industry, in which business his father also held a foremost position.

Timely RECIPES

ELEGANT WALDORF SALAD

1/3 cup roasted blanched almonds
2 cups diced apple
1 cup sliced celery
1/4 cup whipping cream
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 teaspoons granulated sugar
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind

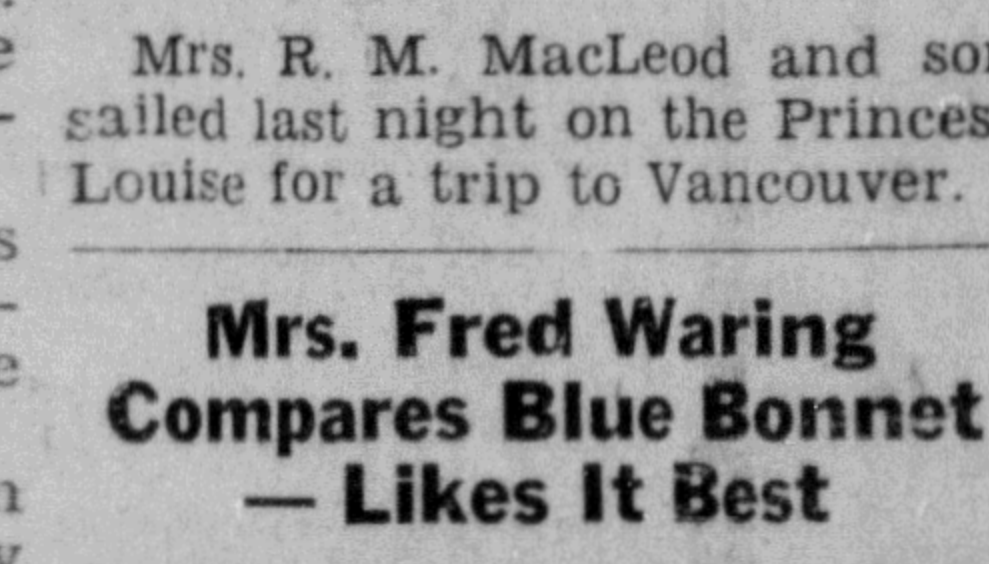

Lettuce cups

Chop almonds coarsely or split into halves. Combine apple, celery and almonds, reserving a few almonds for garnish. Whip cream until stiff and blend in lemon juice, sugar, mayonnaise, salt and rind. Pour over apple mixture and toss lightly. Serve in lettuce cups. Sprinkle with reserved almonds. Serves 4 to 6.

Higher Taxi Fares Sought

An application for higher taxi fares from Prince Rupert Taxi Owners' Association was referred by city council last night to the police and licensing committee for report.

Taxi owners ask for 25-cent increase, upping minimum fares from 50 to 75 cents.

This application stipulates a request that this rate be a minimum and a maximum for city trips, "so that no taxi can cut rates."

Costs of operation are nearly double since the 50-cent rate was fixed in 1947, the association claims. President H. L. Knutsen submitted the request supported by 15 signatures. Some taxi operators here do not belong to the association.

Flaky COFFEE CAKES

FLAXY COFFEE CAKES

• Scald 1/2 c cream, 2 tbs. granulated sugar, 1 tsp. salt and 3/4 c. shortening; cool to lukewarm. Meanwhile measure into a large bowl 1/2 c. lukewarm water, 1 tsp. granulated sugar, stir until sugar is dissolved. Sprinkle with 1 envelope Fleischmann's Fast Rising Dry Yeast. Let stand 10 minutes. THEN stir well.

Add cooled cream mixture and stir in 3 well-beaten eggs. Stir in 2 c. once-sifted bread flour; beat until smooth. Work in 2 1/2 c. (about) once-sifted bread flour. Knead on lightly-floured board until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl and grease top of dough. Cover and set in a warm place, free from draught. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Mix 3/4 c. granulated sugar and 2 tps. ground cinnamon; sprinkle half of this mixture on baking board. Divide dough into 2 equal portions and turn out one portion onto prepared board. Roll out into a 12" square; fold from back to front and from one side to the other. Repeat rolling and folding 3 more times, flouring board lightly if it becomes sticky. Seal edges of folded dough and place in a greased 9" square cake pan and pat out to fit the pan; butter top lightly and press walnut halves well into the dough. Sprinkle remaining sugar and cinnamon mixture on board and treat second portion of dough same as first portion. Cover and let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake in a moderate oven, 350°, 15 mins. while preparing the following syrup; simmer together for 5 mins. 1 c. granulated sugar, 1 1/2 tps. grated orange rind, 1/4 c. butter or margarine and 1/4 c. orange juice. Quickly pour hot syrup over the 2 partially-baked cakes and bake cakes about 15 mins. longer. Stand baked cakes on cake coolers for 20 minutes, then loosen edges and gently shake from pans.
