 BIG BEETS ARE GOOD BUT SMALL ONES ARE TASTIER

Beets Are Best for the Table and for Canning When as Large as Golf Balls

Beets give a heavy yield for the space they take in the home garden; and can be harvested all summer long and served in many delicious ways. The height of their quality is reached when they are as big as a golf ball; so several sowings at intervals are advisable to keep new crops coming to be harvested in their prime.

If you have trouble growing beets it may be your soil needs lime. They are among the first vegetables to show bad effects from acid soil. It causes stunted growth, small roots, and too much red and yellow coloring in their leaves.

If your beets showed these symptoms last summer, be sure to spread lime or limestone screenings over your garden this spring. Beet seeds are large and soft; each "seed" in fact is a cluster of seeds and will grow several plants. Sow them one to the inch in a half inch drill, and firm the soil well over them, because the seeds are rough and air pockets easily form, preventing close contact with the soil.

First thinning may be delayed until the roots have begun to thicken and the leaves are two inches or more wide. At that

Female Stage Roles Scarce

TORONTO — Barbara Davis, Newmarket, Ont., girl who has been living in England since 1944 when she went overseas with the Navy show, is back in Canada. She says the Festival of Britain is not providing easy jobs for aspiring young actresses.

Barbara says established stars are preferred because their names are more likely to draw tourists. Girls' roles are scarce, too, because the emphasis is on plays, including many classics, that feature male actors. The supply of actresses also is greater than the demand as lack of work in the British movie industry is a recent film people seeking jobs on the stage.

Barbara will star in the Central School of Dramatic Art in Royal Albert Hall, plans to spend the next few months acting with the Straw Hat Players, a summer theatre group that is headed by her producer brothers, Murray and Donald Davis.

The group stages plays at Port Carling and Gravenhurst, Ont., in the heart of the province's Muskoka tourist district.

She now speaks with a British accent, which, she explains, she didn't just pick up. She took lessons to acquire it after she was told it would be difficult with her dark coloring and un-English voice to get a decent part in Britain.

A college fraternity house recently sent its curtains to the cleaners. Shortly afterwards the young gentlemen received a note from the girls' dormitory across the street:

Dear Sirs—May we suggest that you procure curtains for your windows. We do not care for a course in anatomy. The boys immediately wrote back: Dear Girls—The course is optional.

Little Girl Has Chance

EDMONTON — Lt.-Col. J. R. Stone said yesterday that his two-year-old daughter, Moira, now has a "fifty percent chance of survival" and partial vision in one eye.

The commander of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry said the eye will be treated by radiation. Moira's other eye was removed last Thursday because of cancer. The colonel, who flew home from Korea at the week-end, said the radiation treatment now planned likely will take 3 1/2 or four months if Moira lives.

He said his possible return to Korea will not be discussed now.

Izzy rushed up to his friend, very excitedly. "Oh, Able, I hear you are going to marry Reba," he said. "Don't do it. She's been out with every guy in Peoria." "Well," queried Able, "is Peoria such a big city?"

Maybe it, takes a psychiatrist to find it, but everyone has a streak of sanity in him somewhere.
