One Big Union is Scathingly Denounced at Trades Congress Sitting at Hamilton, Ontario

New body said to be opposed to organized labor; Armstrong advocates soviet government and complete withdrawal from Russia; Joint candidates with farmers; Other questions discussed

(Special to The News via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)

Hamilton, Sept. 24.—Scathing denunciation of the O. B. U. principles and of the methods used by those who try to foster the movement and of everything connected with it were made by delegates C. W. Hayes and Matthews Wall, members of the executive committee of the American Federation of Labor in speeches before the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress. It was alleged that the O. B. U. was strongly opposed to organized labor and was attempted thirty years ago in the States.

A resolution handed in by George Armstrong of Winnipeg advocated the soviet form of government and demanded the immediate withdrawal of troops from Russia and the Government to refuse aid financially or otherwise to "bourgeois" governments. Armstrong was one of those arrested by the Government on a charge of seditious conspiracy at the time of the Winnipeg strike. The motion was sent to the committee on resolutions for consideration.

Other matters which came before the congress were a proposal in regard to shorter working days, the federal housing scheme and the organization of policemen's unions with the right to affiliate with the trades union movement.

Hamilton, Sept. 24.—(noon). Joe Marks, secretary of the Independent Labor party, told the Trades and Labor Congress today that Labor in Ontario was a political union and that they intended to run joint candidates with the United Farmers.

LABOR GAINS SOME GROUND IN BIG STRIKE

Conflicting Reports From Different Parts of the Country in Regard to Operations.

(Special via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)

New York, Sept. 24.—Organized labor gained ground in Chicago, Youngstown, and other western centres on the second day of the great steel strike, which was marked by increased violence. According to officials of the United States Steel Corporation and various independent companies, little headway was made in Pittsburgh and other eastern towns.

From the south were read conflicting reports such as from Birmingham where Union leaders claimed there were 4,000 men out and the plant officials asserted there was a surplus of labor.

PREPARATIONS FOR LAUNCHING

Merchants Asked to Close Places of Business for Short Time in Order that All May Attend.

Preparations are well under way for the laying of the keel for the first of the big ships at the local shipyards on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Manager Schellenberg is making the preparations at the yards and it is expected that everything will be ready when the Duke of Devonshire arrives.

In order that all may have an opportunity to attend, the local stores are being asked to close for a short time. It is pointed out that as everyone will be at the ceremony there will be no business for merchants to do even if they keep open.

This is the great event of the year in connection with Prince Rupert, it being even more important than the launching of a ship.

ARMY AND NAVY VETERANS MEET

Would Scotch Profiteering Wherever and Whenever Found and Pass Resolution to That Effect.

The regular monthly meeting of the Army and Navy Veterans was held last evening in the rooms on Second Avenue, Major McMullin, the president, in the chair. The usual routine business was disposed of and the following resolution endorsed, and sent by the Vancouver unit of the association.

"Whereas investigations of a committee of the House of Commons have adequately proved the popular allegations that profiteering existed in the handling of necessities of life. Be it resolved that the Army and Navy Veterans Association in Canada urge that the greatest efforts be made by all parties to solve this question without delay, in view of the hardships resulting to the people and the bitter and dangerous feeling towards classes and individuals known to be responsible for the same.

"That wherever profiteering is found, adequate means be immediately found by the enactment of legislation for prompt and fitting punishment of those responsible by the amendment of the Criminal Code and

"That all persons allowing food to waste in order to enhance values be punished likewise."

The Army and Navy Veterans will co-operate with the Great War Veterans in forming a guard of honor for the Duke of Devonshire on his visit here at the week end, and all veterans of former wars have been requested to wear their medals.

Several applications for membership from veterans at Prince George and Vanderhoof were disposed of.

NOONE CASE IS ADJOURNED

Bottle Found in Room Smelt Like Alcohol, Says Dr. Cade.

VICTIM LOST HIS WATCH AND RINGS

The hearing of the charge against M. J. Noone of administering a drug with the intention of committing an indictable offence, was resumed in the police court this morning before Magistrate McMullin.

W. Pagnotti was the first witness called. He said that he was engaged at the Travellers Club and his duties took him out all night. He had gone home on Saturday morning to the Windsor Hotel to sleep and went to bed about noon. At quarter to five in the afternoon he was awakened by someone tapping at his door, and the accused entered holding a bottle of whiskey in his hand. He offered witness a drink, which was accepted and within ten minutes he was asleep again. He awakened around nine o'clock in the evening, and then found that his gold watch and chain, his rings, and his money were gone. He immediately blamed accused of robbing him, and went to the police office, where he got Constable McGlinchy to search the accused's room, but the stolen property was not found. On entering the room the accused dropped something which proved to be a small phial.

Probably Chloral. Dr. Cade, in the witness stand, said that he had examined the crushed glass bottle, in which no trace of any drug could be seen. The cork, however, and the crushed glass bore a smell very similar to chloral hydrate, and on comparing the scent of the exhibit with the drug he was of opinion that the contents of the phial had been chloral. This is a very powerful drug, with a hypnotic effect.

Constable McGlinchy was also examined and told of having searched the witness's room without finding any of the property in question, and of the accused dropping the little bottle and treading upon it. He asked accused what it was. "That's for you to find out," was the reply he got.

The further hearing of the charge was adjourned until Saturday.

SALMON REACH THE SPAWNING GROUNDS

Stewart Norrie, of the Dominion Fisheries Department, returned to town last evening after a trip to the salmon spawning grounds. He was as far east as the Babine country, and says that this year has been a good one for salmon spawning. The hatchery above Babine Lake is very well stocked and all the creeks give evidence of a good run of sock-eye.

VON BERCHTOLD BROUGHT ON WAR

Urged Austrian Cabinet to Act at Once Because Germany Was Ready to Assist.

COUNT STEPHEN TISZA URGED DIPLOMACY FIRST

(Special via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)

Vienna, Sept. 24.—The War Office made public today from the archives of the former Austro-Hungarian government the minutes of the meeting of the Privy Council on July 7, 1914, at which it was virtually decided to begin war on Serbia.

According to this publication, the ministry of Austria-Hungary, especially Count Leopold von Berchtold, Foreign Minister, was solely responsible for the outbreak of hostilities.

The minutes show the meeting to have been opened by Count von Berchtold, who pleaded for an immediate resort to arms against Serbia, stating that Italy and Roumania "could be compensated afterwards for not having been consulted beforehand."

Count Stephen Tisza, then Hungarian Premier, opposed the war, demanding that diplomatic action be taken first and then that an ultimatum of an acceptable nature be sent. Only in case both failed would he have resorted to arms.

Count von Berchtold thereon said: "Now is the right moment because Germany is ready to assist."
