Hunting, Game And Pictures

Americans Head for Tweedsmuir Park Area

BURNS LAKE.—Well-known big game hunters arrived at Burns Lake Friday from Kansas and will hunt the Nadina, Morris River and Nanika ranges under the guidance of Jack Nelson, Barry Grainger and Pete Tourond.

The party is composed of Tom Van De Car of Hutehison, Kansas, who is no stranger to the hunting grounds of the Lakes District ranges, and Henry R. Schenkel, John Trinell and W. T. Frazier, all of Great Bend, Kansas.

Lloyd B. Walker and his entourage, mostly from Seattle, Wash., camped at Burns Lake overnight, as there was no hotel accommodation to be had, while on the way for their annual fall camera hunt. They will be under the guidance of Buster Harrison of Wistaria for the fifth consecutive year in the high ranges of Tweedsmuir Park.

Mr. Walker entertained the members of the Tweedsmuir Park Rod and Gun Club and their guests at the Anglican Hall which was crowded to capacity. Stills and movies in colored film of all wild life to be found in Tweedsmuir Park were shown. The most interesting picture was of the spotting of a grizzly bear, busily engaged in digging out a hoary marmot over half a mile away, the subsequent stalking of the bear and the final kill at a range of over 400 yards.

The grizzly is reputed to be the largest one on authentic record ever killed in America. While showing the pictures, Mr. Walker entertained the guests with a running commentary which sparked with humor. President Henry Schmitt of the T.P.R. & G. Club closed the meeting with a congratulatory speech which was received with cheers which rocked the building and a hearty vote of thanks was passed.
