

Popular Couple Wedding Rites

Popular members of the community were married last evening when Miss Catherine Mary Thompson, daughter of Mrs. John Thompson, 135 Eighth Avenue East, became the bride of John Clifford Franks, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Franks.

The wedding took place at the Methodist Church, beautifully decorated with gladioli, with Mrs. G. Steber officiating. Mrs. G. Freeman was the bridesmaid.

The reception attended by 150 guests was held in the Canadian Legion auditorium which was beautifully decorated with gladioli, dahlias and roses. The toast to the bride was proposed by W. D. Smith and replied to by the groom. Frank Warne proposed the toast to the bridesmaid. Serviteurs were Miss Joyce Tattersall, Mrs. J. Walker and Mrs. J. Furness.

The bride's mother wore a royal blue dinner dress with grey accessories and Mrs. S. Haudenschild, representing the groom's mother, wore black crepe and lace. Music was by Bert and Russell Cameron.

The happy couple left for the wedding trip to Vancouver and other points in the south. For the going-away costume the bride wore a grey suit with navy accessories. The groom is a member of a well-known pioneer family and at present is employed in the city fire department. The bride had been an employee of Dibb Printing Company.

Painting Hints

B.C. HISTORY and development are being depicted in one of the largest murals ever to be painted in Canada. Charles F. Comfort, one of Canada's leading artists, is shown here painting the mural on the wall in the new Dominion Bank in Vancouver. Capt. George Vancouver, after whom the city is named, and Simon Fraser, the first navigator of the Fraser River, take their place in the mural with such modern figures as Emily Carr, one of B.C.'s foremost artists, and Col. E. W. Hamber, chancellor of the University of British Columbia.

Blackwood on Bridge

This contract looked very easy to Miss Brash. But that fact did not put her off guard. She is not as over-confident in the play as she is in the bidding.

Mr. Champion opened the queen of hearts and Miss Brash won with the ace and counted up her winners. Apparently she could take five spades, two hearts, the two minor suit aces and a heart ruff—10 tricks in all. Of course, this count was based on the opposing spades being divided 3-2.

What if one opponent had four spades? In that case it appeared impossible to avoid the loss of one spade trick, one diamond and two clubs. But what's a little thing like "the impossible" to Miss Brash? Nothing at all. She decided to play the hand so that she would have a good chance for success even if the spades were divided 4-1.

A premature leading of trumps would ruin this plan so at the second trick Miss Brash played a small diamond and won it with dummy's ace. She returned a small diamond and Mr. Abel was in with the jack. He led back a trump and Mr. Champion's 10 went to dummy's king. Now Miss Brash led another diamond from the board and ruffed it with the seven of spades. Then she cashed the king of hearts and ruffed her last heart in dummy. The last

Salmon Dishes

Here are two delightfully quick and easy recipes for informal summer meals—just the thing for a hurry-up luncheon or quick evening snack. Both recipes call for the use of canned salmon, which is seen nowadays in many new and interesting main dishes.

SALMON ROLLS
1/2 lb. can salmon
Bread rolls
White sauce
Grated cheese

Flake salmon, strain liquor. Take some fresh rolls, long shaped, cut off the two ends and take out most of the crumb so as to make a tube, partly crumb and partly crust. Prepare a white sauce and when quite hot add the salmon and liquor; sprinkle with grated cheese. Butter the inside of the rolls, fill with the mixture, close the ends with crumb, or the ends which were removed, and place in the oven. Serve when well browned, and very hot. Serves four.

SALMONBURGERS
1 lb. can salmon, flaked
3/4 cup coarse cracker crumbs
1 egg
1 small onion, sliced
1 tsp. butter
Seasoning
Dill pickles

Mix flaked salmon with cracker crumbs, egg slightly beaten. Saute slice onion in butter, add to salmon mixture, season. Shape 6 thin salmon cakes and brown quickly in butter. Warm six large buns, split and place with salmon cakes between. Serve with dill pickles. Serves 6 generously.

If you are interested in cutting food costs, and who isn't these days, here is a wonderful recipe for canned salmon with curry. Canned salmon combines so wonderfully with many basic dishes—it can be extended to give exciting variety to your menus. You'll save money, time, and enjoy truly good eating, if

Small Fry Haven—An attractive nursery, furnished with blond-wood pieces, has a color scheme that combines turquoise with pale yellow and coral. The dado and woodwork are enameled in turquoise, while the upper walls and ceiling are coated a delicate tint of cream-yellow. Draperies and bedspread match the turquoise of the dado and are edged with yellow and coral.

Adds Newness—Window shades, which are still in good condition, may be refinished in colors to harmonize with the room in which they are to be used. Unroll the shades and lay them flat on the floor, after it has been covered with clean papers. Dust the shades, then apply interior flat paint with a wide soft brush, flowing the paint on generously. When thoroughly dry, turn the shade over and refinish the other side.

Coral and Cactus—An attractive bedroom has walls painted a soft cactus green with woodwork done in a grayed coral tone. At the window, which serves as a dressing table site, there are small folding shutters instead of draperies. The blond wood of the furniture blends with the beige tone of the ceiling and chair upholstery echoes the coral of the woodwork.

Dinner at Eight—A dining room that provides a perfect setting for treasured heirloom mahogany furniture has walls painted a lovely, cool ice blue and draperies to match. The Oriental rug on the floor introduces deep crimson tones that blend with the wood of the furniture as well as rose, blue and parchment-beige. Rose colored brocade on the seats of the chairs matches the lamp shades on the sideboard. Above the sideboard, a mirror reflects the silver service that rests upon it and the crystal chandelier above the table.

Inviting Room—An inviting living room with a beamed ceiling is done in three shades of green, brown, bittersweet and yellow. The floor covering is the deepest green, with the two side walls painted in a slightly lighter tone. End walls are still lighter green. The woodwork and beams of the ceiling are coated in a warm brown and yellow appears in the upholstery of the divan and another comfortable chair. Accents of the bittersweet berry color appear in lamp shades and decorative accessories.

Lightens Garage—In a dimly lit garage, painting the walls white is a great aid in parking a car.

Wise Precaution—While heating equipment is shut down for the summer, all doors, pipes and iron portions should be checked to see if they need to be repainted. Cellar dampness may cause trouble unless this is done.

Makes Cupboards Decorative—Painting the back wall of a dish cupboard terra cotta or turquoise blue silhouettes the dishes in effective fashion. The color selected should, of course, harmonize with other colors in the room.

"Little things count"
"Although social work keeps me busy, I find time to advise my daughters, even on little things like getting their clothes really white. 'Just swish Reckitt's Blue through the rinse,' I tell them, 'and out of the blue comes the whitest wash. Yes, Reckitt's prevents yellow tinge. Marvelous for rinsing white hair, too!'"

Smooths Garden Furniture—Garden furniture of the sort with the bark still on it should be coated with spar varnish to make it just as smooth as possible. In this way you can minimize the danger of snacking sheer hose and filmy fabrics.

P. H. Linzey Resigns as C. C. Secretary

Resignation last night of P. H. Linzey, secretary of Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, came as a surprise and with regret to most members. Mr. Linzey asked that he be relieved of his post due to "pressure of business" which did not allow him time to deal adequately with chamber affairs.

With Norton Youngs in the chair, the chamber resumed its regular meetings last night following the summer recess.

For the housing committee, William Stone indicated that he was very dissatisfied with results as it seemed almost impossible to get any authorities to commit themselves. However, there was to be a meeting between representatives of the city and J. E. Brown, provincial housing representative, and T. B. Pickersgill, regional supervisor for Central Housing and Mortgage Corporation, this week, and he hoped that something would develop then.
