Congratulations

W. L. Woods, proprietor-manager of the Savoy Hotel, is to be congratulated on the fine new annex to his Savoy Hotel which he is now opening.

It is a decided and acceptable acquisition to the hotel facilities of the city which are in such short supply.

Fine rooms of the type which the Savoy is providing are badly needed by the city which is assuming an importance and developing traffic which requires more and more such first-class accommodation.

Mr. Woods will be wished the best of success in his new venture.

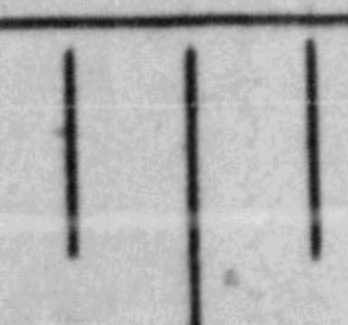

It is interesting to hear that he has even further plans for further expansion along the same lines.

The Savoy Hotel has been identified since the beginnings of the city with the history of Prince Rupert. The original hotel was built back in 1909 by that well-known pioneer, Alex Prudhomme, who left the city several years ago and now makes his home in Victoria. It is a much transformed hostelry today as W. L. Woods takes another important step in keeping it up with the times and the progress of Prince Rupert.
