Mr. Champion opened his singleton trey of clubs, the deuce went on from dummy, Miss Brash played the eight and Mr. Masters won with the king, Now, as you see, Mr. Masters had six winners in diamonds, three in hearts and two in clubs. For his contract he needed to develop a third club trick or a spade trick.

To develop the spade he had to have two entries to dummy: one to lead the king of spades, driving out the ace, and one to get back to cash the queen of spades. There was one entry to the board in hearts. The only chance for a second entry lay in south finding the opposing diamonds 2D

So Mr. Masters laid down the ace and king of diamonds. On the second diamond Mr. Champion showed out, discarding a small spade. One chance gone.

A third round of diamonds was taken and then Mr. Masters tested the club situation. If Mr. Champion had led from the queen of clubs everything was fine. That is, a third round of clubs up toward dummy's jack would set that card for the 12th

But when the ace of clubs was Wrangell played, Mr. Champion showed out of that suit too. Another
