WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—The Senate topped off a sensational-packed hearings of its crime committee at the week-end by voting contempt of Congress citations against twelve bawdy witnesses headed by Frank Costello, reputed New York gambling king pin.

At the same time Senator Alexander Wiley (Republican, Wisconsin) announced he and Senator Charles Tobey (Republican, New Jersey) will introduce a resolution within a week to extend the life of the committee until next January 15.

The Senate, acceding to popular demand, voted Thursday for a month's extension of the committee's life to April 30.

A stowaway aboard the Union steamship Chilcotin was met by the R.C.M.P. Friday afternoon. Giving his name as Jim O'Donnell, an extra head was noticed at the dining table by Chief Steward Harry Humphries Thursday morning. G. C. Foote, the purser, believes that O'Donnell got aboard the boat in Vancouver Wednesday afternoon, some hours before sailing time. "It is rare to get a stowaway and especially from Vancouver to Prince Rupert," said Capt. William McCombe who phoned in to the city police. O'Donnell pleaded guilty to a vagrancy charge in city police court Saturday. Sentence was reserved by Magistrate W. D. Vance for a week pending investigation by immigration authorities.

Having been delayed by heavy freight for waypoints, Union steamer Camosun, Capt. John Boden, arrived in Port at 6:15 last evening from Vancouver and sailed at 11 p.m. for Alice Arm and Stewart whence she will return here tomorrow to sail south at 12 noon. Another Union liner Chilcotin, arrived at 5:30 p.m. from Masset Inlet and sailed at 8 p.m. for Vancouver.

Due here tonight is the Frank Waterhouse freighter Island King, Capt. A. E. Gough, which is unloading 196 creosoted piles and 350 tons of cement and other plant supplies at Watson Island today. Before going out to the North Pacific Cannery with 50 tons of supplies, a small parcel of general cargo will be left here. Lumber and concentrates will be unloaded at Alice Arm, with 40 tons of coal for Stewart, before loading about 550 tons of bulk concentrates from the Silbak Premier mine at Stewart.

Something New From Maugham

A little-known aspect of the past of W. Somerset Maugham, the famous British author, is brought to light in the film "Trio," starring Jean ("Ophelia") Simmons, Roland Culver and James Hayter, which comes today and Tuesday to the Capital Theatre.

The episode in "Trio" which casts a new light on author Maugham is entitled "Sanatorium," and is concerned with the dramatic goings-on in a T.B. sanatorium in Scotland. This story was not invented out of whole cloth. Somerset Maugham saw it happen.

Tuberculosis, which caused the death of the author's mother, had always haunted the now 76-year-old Maugham. As a child he suffered a touch of it and then, after exhausting work as a British intelligence agent during the First World War, it overtook him and he was confined for two years in a Scottish sanatorium before being cured. In his own words, author Maugham "kept his eyes and ears open," despite his illness, and the result was "Sanatorium," first, a widely-acclaimed short story and now the outstanding episode in "Trio."

A short circuited car wire brought the city fire brigade out to Second Avenue and Seventh Street at 6:45 Saturday evening. The second week-end call was from 941 Third Avenue West, where a chesterfield caught fire. Both were controlled, without severe loss.
