

Blackwood on Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

Mr. Abel would have done better to put this hand in seven clubs instead of seven no trumps. Then the matter of entries to his own hand would have been no problem.

Mrs. Keen got off to a fine opening, the nine of diamonds, break in hearts for 13 tricks. A Mr. Abel won with the king and was dismayed to see that the only entry to his hand was gone.

He went into a huddle. It began to look as if he would never play to the second trick. He considered finessing dummy's jack of spades. And he saw that even if he was lucky enough to bring in the entire spade suit, he would also have to get a 3-3 opening, the nine of diamonds, break in hearts for 13 tricks. A dark prospect indeed.

At this point, Mr. New, the enthusiastic kibitzer, pushed back his chair noisily and made a beeline for his tutor, Mr. Masters. He had seen the winning play on the hand. He could be seen across the room excitedly telling Mr. Masters all about it. Then he returned to the table.

saying nothing (as warned by Mr. Masters) but obviously bursting with knowledge.

in Mr. Abel's eyes. He banked down the ace of diamonds, tore the ace of clubs from the dummy and whipped onto the table. Then he led his six good clubs, throwing away everything in the dummy except the ace, king, queen of hearts and the ace king of spades. Thus he wrapped up his vulnerable grand slam.

Mr. Champion was disgusted. "New," he snarled, "if you don't quit jumping around like a jumping jack, I'll have to ask you to stop kibitzing my game. If you know so much about it, why don't you get in the game?"

"All right, I'll just do that," said Mr. New, nettled.

"All right."

"OK."

"OK."

This sort of discussion always makes brilliant conversation.

Football—

Best Game Of Soccer

Canadian Legion defeated Heavy Battery four goals to two in a stirring Senior Football League game in the North Star series last evening. It was adjudged by many as the best game so far this season. All the players worked hard and fast football, good to see, resulted. Battery now retains the league leadership with a slim margin over Legion.

At the opening, Battery attacked and Ford made a well-taken goal for Battery. At the other end, Smith headed over a penalty for Battery was saved by Krause who was quick to fall on a fast low shot. A penalty by Mazzone was shot past by Smith.

As the game continued fast and interesting, both sides attacked in turn. Smith scored for the Legion but Ford put Battery ahead again with a well placed drive.

In the second half, Legion continued to press and goals were scored by Matthews and Smith (two), the match ending with Legion worthy winners 4 to 2.

General Motors meet Legion Wednesday in the Dominion Day Cup. The winners will play Battery in the final Friday evening instead of Monday as Battery will be going to Terrace for the holiday.

Football Fact and Fiction

The visitors deserved their win in the football game Saturday night between Kitwanga and Prince Rupert. Individually and as a team they were superior, and faster on the ball with good combination, kicking surely and defending strongly. Morgan, one of the six Morgans playing for the Kitwanga and a seventh, a reserve, kept a good goal. Harris and Daniels were safe backs. The half-back line never let the Rupert forwards settle down and fed their own forwards well. Good, Morgan and Morrison were all effective. Williams, at centre, is the best centre to be seen here for a long time. Fast, with good ball control, he feeds his wings well and unselfishly and is always dangerous. All the other forwards were aggressive and dangerous with the wing men adept at corner kicks. Altogether the team stacks up as a good aggressive football team.

Nisyok, the Aynash goalie, kept goal for Prince Rupert. He seemed slow at the first goal but did well. Robertson played a sterling game at back and Wyatt was very fast, sound and effective. The halves were outplayed. Herbert Morgan, in an unaccustomed position, did well both in the air and on the ground where he frequently fooled the opposition. Bowman was off color until near the end. Darrow Gomez tried hard and certainly strengthened the team which started with only ten players. Forward the city eleven was ineffective until near the end when they showed neat and resourceful combination. Baxter was the pick, none of the others playing up to club form.
