

Mrs. R. Smith Says Use More

Mrs. Smith says she finds that when cooking with Pacific Milk she can use less butter.

Now we all know butter is high in price and Pacific Milk is not.

So it is a good idea of Mrs. Smith's to call attention to this fact.

LARGE NUMBER OF CONTRIBUTORS TO LIMERICK CONTEST

It is possible that the winner of the limerick contest will not be decided upon until Wednesday. There have been so many verses submitted and so many are almost equally good that it is a difficult matter to decide which is the best. It is possible that a decision will have been made, however, in time for publication on Wednesday next.

The following are some of the verses submitted:

Not a Cheer.

A Royal Duke once came from Devonshire

To Rupert, and I vow by Heaven

Sir,

Though a throng lined the street,

Not a cheer rose to greet

The distinguished Vice-Regent from Devonshire.

Society Wins.

A city of some notoriety

Lacked nought in the shape of variety.

Land, sea and sky

With each other did vie,

But were far outclassed by Society.

Prince Rupert.

It's all very well to complain,

But darn it, you come back again.

It's those deuced old hills

That give you the thrills,

The folks and the air—yes the rain.

School in the Clouds.

A school was once built in the clouds

To educate children in crowds;

But alack the poor things

They ain't got no wings

To fly to that school in the clouds.

In the Muskeg.

A man with a large limousine

Did wonder where he had been;

He shot o'er a rail

In a very bad gale

And lay in the muskeg unseen.

Huntsmen.

On the wharf with blankets and gun

The huntsmen await week-end fun;

The launch "Alice B."

Lies resting at sea

To take them, at setting of sun

Plenty of Bears.

Oh, huntsman, why wander with pain

As far as Smith Island for gain

While here at your door

Is a bear, very sore

At Prince Rupert's perpetual rain.

No Use for Bears.

Prince Rupert has no use for bears

Who growl when they come to its fairs,

Because of the rain

Just come to sustain

Her water cart out for repairs.

Civic Committee.

Once Rupert's civic committee

Set out to do their "we better."

To welcome to town

A duke of renown;

Their efforts were really quite witty.

A Bore.

I believe there are fully a score

Rupert men who have heads rather sore;

The Chautauqua so mean

Just extracted fifteen,

And besides gave a hell of a bore.

The Editor.

When editors term, good limericks to burn

As sonnets; great Shakespeare will turn,

In his torments he'll roll

And he'll store up much coal

And that critic while he sizzles he will learn.

The Dock.

We once had an idle drydock

That gave this town many a mock,

But a man of renown

Laid a steel keel down

And now we are proud of our dock.

Prince Rupert City.

Prince Rupert city is booming at last

And all vacant stores are filling up fast,

And I really am sure

We must build more and more,

For hard times now are a thing of the past.

Hospital Hours.

The Hospital Board has awakened at last

And strict visiting hours really have been passed;

The patients at least

Will now have some peace

And get lights out by ten or half past.

There may be something you want. See the classified column on Page 5.
