Job's Daughters Honor Guardian

A surprise birthday party was held by Job's Daughters in honor of their guardian, Mrs. Alex S.

Mitchell, in her home at 232 Fourth Ave. West Thursday night. Over 40 girls were present for games, community singing and talk, during which Mrs. Mitchell was presented with a musical jewel box as a token of appreciation and esteem.

Mrs. Mitchell thanked the Honored Queen, Diane Kennedy, and the girls for their thoughtfulness. Among those present were two of the members, the Misses Peggy Pullen and Solveig Mork, who are here on holidays from nursing training at the Royal Victoria Jubilee Hospital. A friend in training with the student nurses, Miss Thirly Duck, of Victoria, was also at the party. Helping on the refreshment committee were Diane Kennedy, Honored Queen; Heather Brewer, Snr. Princess, and Mrs. L. W. Kergin. SUDBURY, Suffolk, England — "Because of these violent times" customers of an isolated public house here have taken out insurance against assaults.
