Lloyd George Confers with Strike Leaders but so far Without Definite Conclusion

Dukes and Earls are Driving Motor Lorries and Working on Trains. Outlook for Settlement is said to be More Hopeful

(Special to The News via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)
London, October 1.—Premier Lloyd George and representatives of the Transport Workers and Railwaymen did not arrive at any definite conclusion at the conference which was held yesterday, it was officially announced, but it is being resumed today. The impression gained from the little the delegates were willing to say was that progress had been made and the outlook of a settlement was more hopeful.

Social lines, in the past rigidly held in England, have broken down for the time being, as the result of the railway strike. A Duke may be seen driving a motor lorry through the streets, while an Earl was in the chauffeur's seat on a motor heading a convoy of cars from Billingsgate. The Sixth Earl of Port Arlington is among those engaged in unloading perishable goods, milk in churns, from a train, while at Paddington station Earl and Lady Drogheda were among the workers.

Frederick Henry Smith, son and heir of the first Baron of Colwyn, was fireman on the Liverpool-London express train.

MUST HAVE PERMIT TO OWN BEAVER SKINS

Provincial Police Taking Active Measures to Enforce the Close Season.

Chief Minty has been advised by the superintendent of provincial police that it is unlawful for anyone to have beaver skins in their possession without a permit from the police department. The regulations stated that all dealers and others having skins should make a complete return of the number to the government on or before August 31 last.

It seems that some people have not yet made their returns and they are liable to prosecution if they have skins in their possession without a permit. The object of the regulation is to prevent trapping during the close season.

There was a possibility that Jimmy Ring would carry the colors of the Reds but Sallee is almost a certainty unless he warms up.

However, as the financial statement was not ready to be presented the election was postponed and will probably be held at a special meeting which will likely be called next Wednesday evening.

A resolution was passed at last night's meeting protesting against the action of the Dominion Government in issuing Class A badges to men who had gone to France after the armistice was signed on November 11 last year.

The secretary wishes to draw attention to the fact that the Association's rooms are now open all day to returned men and that the canteen, which has been recently opened, is open for the patronage of the general public.

Seeing an account of the shooting of a wolf across the harbor, a hunter who wishes to be nameless tells of finding the body of a wolf and also feathers and remains of one or more eagles in the woods across the harbor. He said he thought it looked as if the eagles and the wolf had been fighting, although it might have been that two eagles were fighting over the carcass of the wolf.

A wolf was reported to have been seen recently on Digby Island and there have been other reports of seeing wolves this year. This is all interesting because wolves are usually scarce in this neighborhood.

OCTOBER 9 IS FIRE PREVENTION DAY

Dominion Government Sets Aside That Occasion to Educate People into Conserving Property.

An extra copy of the Canadian Gazette to hand announces by royal proclamation that October 9 is to be "Fire Prevention Day." This does not interest Prince Rupert very much just now as it would be impossible to set a fire outdoors, no matter how much effort was given to the impulse. At the same time for the burned up parts of the province doubtless such a day is an advantage. The idea is to focus public opinion on the necessity of conserving the forests and preventing fires both in the woods and in buildings.
