Blackwood on Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

Here is a brief summary of the most frequently invoked bridge laws which have been referred to in the past few columns. Of course, all the laws cannot be covered but it may be helpful for you to check over the most common infractions—and then penalties therefore.

REVOKE:

You revoke when you fail to follow suit although able to do so. A revoke is established when the offender or his partner leads or plays to the next trick. Penalty: two tricks, won after the revoke, are transferred to the non-offending side.

EXPOSED CARDS:

If you are playing a hand as declarer no card of yours ever becomes a penalty card. If you want to you can spread your whole hand face-up on the table—although frankly I can see no advantage in it.

But if a defender exposes a card or sees a card of his partner's before she should, that card becomes a penalty card. Such a card must be left face-up and played at the first legal opportunity.

LEAD FROM WRONG HAND BY DECLARER:

If the lead is in the closed hand and the declarer leads from dummy (or vice-versa) he must, if required by a defender, lead from the proper hand and in addition he must lead the same suit which he attempted to lead before.

LEAD OUT OF TURN BY DEFENDER:

If this happens when it was declarer's turn to lead, declarer goes right ahead and leads—and the card led out of turn becomes a penalty card.

If it was the other defender's turn, declarer can forbid the lead of that suit or he can treat the card led out of turn as a penalty card. He is entitled to think it over and choose whichever penalty will serve him best.

INSUFFICIENT BID:

If you make an insufficient bid things aren't quite as simple as they used to be under the old laws. You are required to substitute either a sufficient bid or

Sonja Ladies Planning Tea

Plans for the spring sale in May were discussed at Monday night's regular monthly meeting of the Sonja Ladies auxiliary to a pass. You have three choices as follows. If you substitute the lowest sufficient bid in the same denomination there is no penalty. If you make any other bid, your partner must pass through the remainder of the auction. If you pass, your partner is barred as before and if you end up defending on the hand, the declarer can either forbid or require the lead of whichever suit he chooses.

DUMMY'S RIGHTS:

Dummy should not enter into the actual play of the hand by suggestion or by touching a card or cards or in any other manner. However he has a few important rights. He can question any other player about revoke. He can participate in a discussion about the laws or about the facts of a case.

And he can point out an irregularity or attempt to keep one from occurring. For instance, if his partner, the declarer is obviously about to lead from the wrong hand he can speak up and issue a warning.

This is something to remember—if a penalty is assessed and later found to be incorrect, it still stands. So get it right the first time—or forever hold your peace.

the Sons of Norway. Final decisions will be made for the sale at the next meeting.

In the chair at the meeting held at Mrs. Julia Slatta's was president, Mrs. George Morgan.

Over 20 members were present. Under the hostess, Mrs. Slatta, on the refreshment committee were Mrs. W. Ballinger and Mrs. Jack Ritchie.

LONDON (CP)—Grannie Paris, believed London's oldest resident, celebrated her 106th birthday by dancing the "Lambeth Walk" and smoking a cigarette.

Cold Hits Industries

VANCOUVER.—Logging at Cowichan has suspended until such time as weather conditions make it possible to resume work. This was announced here Wednesday. The same situation is having a serious effect on shipping. Loading along the Vancouver waterfront is suspended. Extreme cold, snowstorms and gales have been prevailing.
