Blackwood on Bridge

By Esley Blackwood

It would be an exaggeration to say that Mr. Dale planned the exact pattern of play which would defeat this contract. When he selected his opening lead he had no idea it would turn out so well. He deserved credit nevertheless for the thoughtful play which brought about Mr. Champion's downfall.

On lead against the four spade contract, Mr. Dale's natural inclination would be to lead the deuce of hearts. Good players always lead the lowest card from a holding of three to an honor in their partner's bid suit.

But in this case the old master decided to open the queen of hearts. This was not an attempt to confuse the declarer, but to avoid confusing Mr. Muzzy. In other words Mr. Muzzy consistently leads the honor from three to an honor in partner's suit. For purposes of clarity and simplification, Mr. Dale was trying to play his partner's game.

What a fatal illusion this led to in Mr. Champion's mind. Mr. Muzzy overlooked the queen of hearts with his king and laid down the ace of the suit. On this second trick Mr. Dale dropped the deuce of hearts.

Now when Mr. Muzzy continued with the jack of hearts, Mr. Champion lost no time ruffing with the jack of spades.

He felt sure Mr. Dale had started with the doubton queen of hearts. And holding a total of nine trumps in his own hand and dummy, it appeared fairly certain that the ace-king-queen of spades would be sufficient to pick up the outstanding trumps.

As you see, however, trumping

with the jack of spades made Mr. Dale's thrice-guarded 10 spot a sure winner. It was also impossible for Mr. Champion to avoid the loss of a club trick and he was down one.

He was also fit to be tied. This was the third makeable game hand he had played in the current rubber and he still wasn't vulnerable.

He delivered an impassioned lecture, pointing out that the "right" lead from Mr. Dale's heart holding was the deuce—not the queen. He added that leading the queen wouldn't gain anything more than once in a thousand times.

Girl Supervisor Paddled Long Way To Teach Indians

MOOSE FACTORY, Ontario (CP)—Getting in the mood for a new job as supervisor of 80 small Indians and Eskimos, 17-year-old Jennifer McVicar of Toronto paddled a good part of the way to her post in a canoe. It's some 360 miles between Ottawa and Abitibi and many more by canoe.

Jennifer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kay McVicar of Toronto, decided she would like a change this year from previous summer jobs on the farm or at summer camps and hotels. She obtained a post as temporary supervisor at the Bishop Horden Memorial School here from the Department of Indian Affairs.

Because her job didn't start until August 1, Jennifer, who got her senior matriculation last spring, accepted a chance to travel from Ottawa to Abitibi by canoe. From there she came on by train to Moosonee.

Her first days were busy, helping to prepare for the centennial celebration of the settlement of the mission and watching the influx of Indians who came from as far as 200 miles away in war canoes.

In a letter to her mother she noted that there is only a day school during the summer, but in winter the Indian children stay here while their fathers move off to the bush. She has been keenly interested in the Indian ceremonies and social events.

An evening service in the Cree language that she attended "was very beautiful to listen to," although she knows only a few words of the Cree language. "There have been three Indian weddings, with a dance after each one," she said. "I was very disappointed to find that the bride wore satin and not native costume.

"There is no point in going to a wedding before 11 o'clock as they just start then and dance until dawn. They dance a form of square dance with six couples. In between sets the men do what is called a step-dance, trying to outlast one another."

Modern Methods Make Poor Land Grow Good Crop

BRADFORD (CP)—An impoverished 100-acre farm near here is paying off for Jim Steers, a 31-year-old farmer with a firm belief in modern methods of agriculture.

The land wasn't much for yield when Jim started working it 12 years ago. Most of it was sloping and every time it rained the topsoil started heading for the hollows. The crops didn't have a chance.

Jim, who had taken short courses at the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, invited the college expert to help him. They told him how to map out his farm, how to follow contours, seed grass waterways and what crops should be planted where. They also gave him a five-year program that has proved successful.

Spruce-mead, as he calls his holding, is actually a dairy farm. All the crops are planted with that in mind. Mixed grains and plenty of hay are the main items. He once planted a corn crop but had to give it up. It proved difficult to handle on hilly land even when planted on a contour.

SCIENTIFIC USE
On one side of his sloping fields this year, he has four or five acres of alfalfa planted in two-year rotation with grain. The lower areas are kept in hay crops as much as possible to prevent erosion. Grass waterways are provided to drain off rain without removing soil.

As well as being a successful hay and grain farmer, Jim has followed the latest methods in cattle raising. Last year he built a loafing barn and milking parlor for his dairy herd.

He is also something of a contour missionary. Other farmers in the district have started working their farms across the slope.

FAMOUS TENOR
John Coates, famous British tenor who died in 1941, started his professional career as a baritone.

DADDY MAY I HAVE A DOLLAR-FIFTY TO BUY SOME PUZZLES AND GO TO THE MOVIES? A DOLLAR-FIFTY!

POP—MAY I HAVE TWO DOLLARS TO GO TO THE BALL GAME AND HAVE A SWI? GREAT SCOTT! CHILDREN REQUIRE A LOT OF MONEY THESE DAYS!

WHEN WE WERE KIDS WE DIDN'T GET ANY MONEY—WE HAD TO MAKE OUR OWN FUN! WHAT DID YOU DO DADDY?

WE'LL LOOK THRU THESE OLD DIARIES AND ALBUMS AND SEE WHAT MAMA AND I DID TO AMUSE OURSELVES WITHOUT SPENDING MONEY! OH THIS IS GOING TO BE FUN!

LOOK, HERE'S A PICTURE OF ME MAKING A SAILBOAT OUT OF OLD BOXES! AND ON THURSDAY I AMUSED MYSELF MAKING DOLL CLOTHES! SOUNDS CORNY TO ME!

AND HERE IT TELLS HOW MUCH FUN WE HAD MAKING TAFFY! THAT'S IT—LET'S HAVE AN OLD-FASHIONED TAFFY PULL!

WE KIDS USED TO ENTERTAIN OURSELVES FROM MORN 'TIL NIGHT WITHOUT SPENDING A PENNY! TAFFY'S READY—NOW EVERYBODY GRAB A HANDFUL AND START PULLING!

I WANNA GO TO THE MOVIES! THERE'S SOMETHING ABOUT IT I MUST'VE FORGOTTEN! MAMA, AFTER WE CLEAN THIS UP MAY I GO TO THE BALL GAME?

I FIGURE, WITH THE DAMAGE AND ALL THAT COST US FIFTEEN DOLLARS! HAVE YOU ANY MORE GOOD IDEAS?

I SHOULD'VE THOUGHT OF THIS IN THE FIRST PLACE!
