LAST HOP OF SEASON

"Punch" Dickens and Lew Parmenter Making Flight Including Stop in Northern B.C.

Hazardous Trip

Machine Equipped With Pontoons Although Inland Lakes Are Beginning to Freeze

McMURRAY, Alta., Oct. 21.—C. I. "Punch" Dickens and his mechanic, Lew Parmenter, pioneer fliers of the north, hopped off from here last week on their last long flight of the season into the vast northern hinterland.

This flight will be a hazardous one insofar as the fliers left McMurray on pontoons at a time when all northern waters are freezing up but they were quite sanguine regarding the ultimate results of the flight, stating that they expected to be back in Edmonton within a few days.

The course of the flight was to be down the Athabasca River, touching at Fort Chipewyan and Fort Fitzgerald, down the Slave River to Fort Resolution, across Great Slave Lake, down the Mackenzie River to Fort Simpson, thence up the Liard River to Fort Nelson, B.C., back again across the border to Peace River and down to Cooking Lake where Walter Gilbert, another famous flier of the Western Canada Airways, awaited the aviator's arrival.

Both pilots were then to ferry their ships to Winnipeg where the machines would undergo a thorough overhauling, at the same time having their pontoons changed to skis preparatory to the continuation of their winter flights in the northland.

Dickens and Gilbert have both, during the summer made epochal flights across the barrens and into the Arctic regions and expect to make a few more during the coming winter. They expect to continue their flying in the north again about the middle of November.

More Than Three Hundred Are Caught In Corporation Crash; Claims Amount to Near $300,000

VICTORIA, Oct. 21.—More than three hundred persons, most of them in Victoria, Vancouver and Nanaimo, were officially listed yesterday by F. E. Winslow of the Royal Trust Co. in his capacity as custodian, as creditors of the British Columbia Bond Corporation Ltd. which crashed early this month. Total amounts of claims, as issued yesterday, came to between $275,000 and $300,000. These claims are based on net credits as of October 9 and do not represent the full losses of clients, many of whom have losses of three to four times as much through the depressed prices of stocks during the past few months.

The largest individual creditor of the corporation is the Royal Bank of Canada with a claim of $143,000. The list of client creditors of yesterday does not include any of a considerable number of persons who since April turned their investments from other securities into preferred stock of the British Columbia Bond Corporation at $100 per share. These, it was explained, will get nothing back unless, by some developments, there should be enough to pay off in full all client creditors.

They included both adults and infants. The bones were found in three heaps, on a hillside. They lay in a gravel formation nine feet beneath the surface of the ground. Clear Cut Statement Made By Government Regarding Holy Land

Will Not Give In Either to Jews Nor Arabs But, Instead, Intends to Promote Interests of All Inhabitants

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The British government made it plain in a statement issued last night that it intends to continue the administration of Palestine in accordance with the terms of the mandate as approved by the council of the League of Nations. "It must be realized," says the report, "that it is useless for the Jewish leaders to press the government to conform to their policy, in regard, for example, to immigration and land and to the aspirations of the more uncompromising of Jewish opinion."

It is equally useless for Arab leaders to maintain their demands for a form of constitution which would render it impossible for the government to carry out their double undertaking to the Jewish people and the non-Jewish population of Palestine.

The government's aim, says the report, is to promote the interests of the inhabitants—not the Arabs and Jews—in a manner consistent with the obligations which the mandate imposes.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—Zionist Jewry the world over today voiced protests at conditions in a statement on the new British policy in Palestine which they consider will impede their purpose of making the Holy Land a national home for Jews.
