Bookings For Western Trips This Year Near Record, Says C. N. R. Official

WINNIPEG, March 24-An indication of a general improved business outlook is to be had in the reservations which have been made by the Canadian National Railways for special parties of tourists who will travel through Western Canada during the coming summer.

According to R. Creelman, passenger traffic manager, Winnipeg, the movement of 25 special trains is already assured and these, together with extra cars attached to the regular service, assure a movement through Western Canada of 4585 tourists. This figure does not include the estimated regular passenger traffic nor the large number of doctors and their families who will be attending the convention of the British Medical Association in Winnipeg in August and proceeding westward to Jasper af-· terwards.

"Special business already secured," said Mr. Creelman, "practically constitutes a record. It is well in excess of business in hand at this ime last year and the prospects ere that the number already known will be added to considerably beore the summer season arrives. "One of the most satisfying features of this year's business," Mr. Creelman said, "is the new number! of special parties finding their or-, Addressed Evening Service Last igin in the middle western States, an area which in past years has not contributed very heavily to tourist traffic in Canada."

March 24 — An expedition into the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes and the Katmai Volcano region in Alaska during the coming summer to study the losure of great earth wounds caused there by volcanic eruptions as been announced by the National Geographic Society.

The party will be led by Dr. Robert F. Griggs, who discovered the famous smoky valley in 1916, when it was described as a "seething inferno of hot rocks, steam and acid gasses." It was later made part of a national monument by President Wilson.

Several possible results of the expedition are advanced by the geographic society. Recent studies, it was said, indicate that many of the world's ore bodies originated under just such conditions as those exemplified in the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes. It was held poswhich vapor is poured into the val-$1.00 which vapor is poured into the valtually will form hot springs like $1.00 those of the Yellowstone National Park. Temperature studies will be $1.00 made to compare with data gathered by previous expeditions.

Conditions in and around the valley after the last eruption, it was said, were comparable to the world itself in the remote past, before soil was formed. A study of the plants growing in the pumice-covered areas, therefore, was described as a clue to the processes of humus formation, and a possible solution of many still unsolved agricultural
