MAKING NEW CABINET

Hon. R. B. Bennett, Premier-Elect, is now selecting political heads of the various governmental departments | Mervin Cameron. to form a cabinet, executive council or administration as it is variously called. There is plenty of good material on the Conservative side of the House just as there was plenty on the Liberal side. It is sometimes difficult to secure the material where it is the aim to give each province repre- Lamb, Emma Whiffin. sentation, especially when a province has but four members, as is the case in Prince Edward Island. However, we Billy Roma. may be pretty sure the new cabinet will be one that can cope with the demands upon it. Mr. Bennett knows the material pretty well and will doubtless make the best possible choice.

CROP PROSPECTS GOOD

The crop prospects on the prairie are about average, according to the various reports received. Also it is stated Fritchard, Mrs. Caravan. that at Edmonton more people have filed on homesteads than last year, an indication that the tendency is not at by, Jack Judge. present away from the land. PREPARING FOR LABOR DAY

Labor Day is the first Monday in September and al- Pritchard and D. Postulo. ready the local Trades and Labor Council is busy making preparations for a celebration.

Of course a great many people will not wish to celebrate by taking part in or watching sports but for those that do, the committee just formed will be serving a good purpose. There is no disloyalty to labor in not attending those sports. Some people prefer to spend the time trout fishing, visiting out of town, hiking, boating or in a dozen different ways. They will be carrying out the idea of the day just as much as those who gather at Acropolis Hill.

Labor Day is a very useful holiday, the last before the autumn.

THE WATT CASE

Norman Watt is still going about his work in Prince Rupert with the stigma on him of having been dismissed from the government service. It was undoubtedly a political dismissal and the legislature long ago ordered an inquiry to be made. So far this has not been held and the friends of Mr. Watt are anxious that it shall take place because they are of opinion that the dismissal was unjust.

Whether the dismissal was just or not, the inquiry It's hard to realize that just one should be held soon or everyone will think the provincial secretary was in the wrong. The delay has already caused most people to think so.
