SPORT CHAT

Albert, King of the Belgians, has just left the Dolomite district in the Italian Alps, after several weeks of Alpine sports, leaving behind him records of mountain climbing equaled by few in any of the crowned heads in history. Albert, his guides, brothers Silvio, Mario and Agostini, ascended six or more cloud-piercing peaks—Brenta Summit, East Brants Wall, Lower Castle, Refuge Cross, Lower Brenta and Low Tower. During the climb of Brenta's Summit, which is 11,000 feet high, King Albert performed an heroic feat for which he has received the sincere thanks of his guides.

As he stood on a rock jutting from a perpendicular side of the mountain one of his guides shouted to him that the rock was giving way. Albert moved quickly to another rock but with great presence of mind continued to support the tumbling rock with his breast and hands, lest it should fall on the guides below. Only when the guides had moved out of the way did Albert release the rock which plunged like a projectile into the valley below. King Albert, who stayed at Trento incognito as Dr. Redy departed with the statement, "I am sorry my age has not permitted me to profit to the utmost from possibilities offered by my incomparable guides."

I'M willing to bet a dollar of the best money I ever earned that I can beat any of those aldermen who opened the new courses, either at the Sunken Garden or the Auditorium. Anyone wishing to take this up, please leave the dollar with the Daily News.

Next week we plan to sample our first turkey of the season and our twenty-fifth pumpkin pie. You will notice from this that we are addicted to piety.

One advantage in belonging to the masses is that we are the people the politicians always pretend to try to please. But they often don't.

Thank Heaven I belong—
To the masses, loved to all.
We might be of the classes,
But haven't got the gall.

Certiorari proceedings in Supreme Court in Vancouver having been successful, appeals in County Court by D. R. Stein and Herbert Porter, fur dealers, for the return of pelts seized in recently held Game Act proceedings here have been withdrawn.

IS VAST COUNTRY

"No person but one who has been there can realize the immensity of the country around Atlin of how easy it is to get lost there," said Judge F. McB. Young this morning in commenting upon the disappearance of Pilot E. J. A. Burke. "It is so vast that it seems almost like a whole world itself. And at this time of year it is absolutely barren."

Judge Young lived for several years at Atlin after he was first appointed judge of this county. He fears that Burke may have tried to land on the ice of one of the lakes and that he and his machine might have gone through ice too thin to support the weight of the plane.

Catholic Bazaar Has Fine Start

There was a very large attendance at the Catholic bazaar both yesterday afternoon and evening and the affair gives promise of being quite as large a success as usual. The official opening took place last night with Mayor C. H. Orme presiding. Weather is better this afternoon than it was yesterday and another large turn-out is expected today. Tonight the proceedings will close with the conducting of the drawings and a dance for which will be furnished by Charlie Bano's orchestra.

Among those assisting names were not mentioned yesterday are Misses Jean Stalker, Bessie Campbell at the towel and candy table, Miss Josephine Donald is general convener of Junior League booth.
