STUDY IN CONTRASTS

It is wonderful what promptness the Conservative Government at Victoria has shown in taking action with a view to commencing the highway to Alaska. It has been in marked contrast with the building of the highway from Prince Rupert to Terrace. While we have no complaint to Alice Arm, which is being so sucmake about the progress now being made on the highway, it cessfully developed by the Dalwas only commenced after a long delay. No sooner do our housie Mining Co., state that the Yankee friends sound the tocsin, however, than Premier Tolmie responds immediately and now it is announced that ceedingly rich ore values encounsurvey parties will be sent in immediately.

We are not objecting to the Alaska road. Indeed we are tained. very much in favor of it as long as the Prince Rupert road gets proper attention and prior consideration. After a wait exceeded the hopes of the Dalhousie victory, a heroine's name, of 20 years we have that much coming to us. All we wish to point out is the different attitude shown by the Victoria before plans will be made for the Government toward Prince Rupert over that to any project installation of a concentrating mill.) in which the south is directly interested. The following is MADE POOR the announcement in the Vancouver Province which is MADE making many Prince Rupert people anything but enthusiastic over trusting their political fate to any Tory administration:

"Systematic survey to locate a possible route for the proposed Alaska highway and to determine roughly its cost, will be started by the public works department immediately following Premier Tolmie's return from Hazelton.

"Two survey parties will be placed in the field during the next few days, one operating out of Hazelton and another from Telegraph Creek. The first will work from Hazelton north to Telegraph Creek, and the second will survey from torially. He failed utterly to hide ior statesmanship of Mackenzie that point to the Yukon boundary.

"At the same time, surveyors of the Alaska Government will commence to determine the location of the road in Alaska territory, and similar work will be undertaken by the to misinterpret the silence in which Mackenzie King has certainly Federal Government through the Yukon.
