KETCHIKAN BALL TEAM ON MAY 24

Playing of Double-Header Planned in Connection With Elks' Excursion Here on Holiday

There is to be an Elks' excursion from Ketchikan to Prince Rupert on May 24, the feature of which will be a baseball double-header, it was learned at last night's council meeting when F. H. Stephens, exalted ruler of the local lodge, had a letter before the board seeking permission to use the Acropolis Hill grounds for that purpose on Victoria Day. It is planned to have a return excursion from Prince Rupert to Ketchikan on July 4.

Permission was granted the lodge to use the grounds provided that it co-operates with other sports organizations which might be desirous of using the grounds on the holiday. Mayor Orme stated that he understood the Fair Board was not intending to put on a May 24 celebration this year.

Sport Chat

Although nothing has been published about the matter for the last week or so, the project for the establishment of a gymnasium in Prince Rupert, which was recently revived by the Gyro Club, is by no means dead. Recently, Dr. L. W. Kergin took the matter up with Y.M.C.A. officials in Toronto and has written to the club announcing that an organizing secretary of that organization may be expected in the city before long to make a survey of the situation. The announcement has been confirmed by other correspondence. Relieving local interests of much of the intricate organization work although it would still necessitate the required money being raised here, the entry of the Y.M.C.A. here appeals to many as the ideal way of consummating this long wanted project.

LIGHTING OF STREETS

Agreement Finally Reached Between City and Northern B. C. Power Co.

On recommendation of the utilities committee, the city council finally decided last night to enter into an agreement with the Northern British Columbia Power Co. for the installation of 29 ornamental standards lighted with 300-watt lamps on streets in the downtown section which now have those rural appearing and much-discussed festoon lights. The cost of the new street lighting system will be $1305 per year as against $1392 which is at present the charge. These figures will form the basis of the agreement with the power company for the new system. Should it be found necessary or desirable at a later date to put in lamps larger than 300-watt, the cost would be correspondingly higher. It is expected, however, that the 300-watt lamps will suffice. They will, at least, be a great improvement over the present system both in appearance and in illumination intensity, in addition to having the advantage of costing less.

Ald. Pullen thought a very good bargain had been struck. It should be remembered that this downtown section of the city always had paid more than its share for street illumination. The centre of the city was paying for the street lighting of the outskirts.
