KINGDOM OF CANADA

A move that would be a retrograde one would be the changing of this dominion to a kingdom. While it is already that in fact, there is no reason why we should tamper with the name.

Today there is a swing towards Empire and a swing Scott Act in Prince Rupert. A away from closer relations with the United States. Some strong campaign is planned. people interpret this to be a move toward all the snobbery and nonsense that goes with the older system, but they are bring the steamer Prince Rupert mistaken. Canadian people do not want that sort of thing. back to the local dock when chas. They are well satisfied with being a dominion in a great M. Wilson, local real estate man, commonwealth rather than a Kingdom in an Empire.

While this is only a play on words, there is something tate conversation with A. C. Chrisbehind it all which is more than words. For a democracy the democratic names fit best, so let us stick to the old name "Dominion" and not copy the outgrown civilizations of Europe where they too are moving away from King- night by children of Prince Rudoms towards Commonwealths.

COST OF DOING BUSINESS

The cost of doing business comes high but the cost of Jack Humble, Lloyd Johnston, not doing business comes much higher. That is where the newspapers come useful. They not only provide readers with the news of the day but they provide merchants with that publicity which helps them to do business.

SATISFACTORY RESULT

The result of the voting on the bylaws yesterday was I very satisfactory. The members of the city council will feel much encouraged and the men who have been trying l hard to keep the wolf from the door will have an opportunity to get something to eat.

Another good thing is that some very useful work will Dear Editor: be done for the city.

During the year since the Aird report was received applications have been sent forward from various sources, including one from the Canadian Pacific Railway, asking permission to build a series of stations across Canada. These licenses have not yet been granted and will not be passed upon finally in all likelihood until Parliament makes its decision.

Advocates of both private and public ownership are busy, drawing examples or warning ,as the case may be, chiefly from Great Britain, where government ownership is in force, and the United States, where private enterprise prevails. In argument the British plan seems to have the advantage, although in fairness it should be pointed out that Great Britain being so much smaller, with a homogeneous population and practically isolated from other systems, is in a position very different from that which prevails here.

However, there are those in the United States who, fearing death from boredom superinduced by advertisement loaded programs, are looking at Great Britain with long-

EVERY man, woman and child will occasionally over-indulge. But don't suffer for your indiscretions. It's folly to do so when you can so easily sweeten and settle a sour, upset stomach with a little Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

GAS, NAUSEA

Hearty eaters have long since learned the quick comfort this perfect anti-acid brings. Smokers know how it neutralizes nicotine; brings back a sweet taste; guards the breath. Women know what it does for nausea-or sick headache. And when children have over-eatenare bilious, constipated or otherwise upset-give them a little of the
