CASH-CARRY SAVE MONEY

Economy Store Operated by N. Mussalem Completes Year of Successful Operation

Tomorrow is the first anniversary of the opening of the Economy Cash and Carry Store by N. Mussalem and so great has been its success that the occasion is worthy of special mention.

Beginning with a few casual customers last July 6 the store has gradually and steadily built up for itself a clientele until today there are literally hundreds of satisfied customers taking advantage of the opportunity to buy groceries and garden produce at the lowest possible prices.

For Prince Rupert the store was somewhat of an experiment. There had been cash and carry stores that had failed but it remained for Mr. Mussalem to make one a success.

Customers who deal at the Economy Cash and Carry look upon the founder of the store as something in the line of a public benefactor. He has enabled them to save money while living just as well as previously or in some cases to live much better at the same price as previously. Not only has he been able to give advantages in price but the store has influenced other stores in town to sell at a smaller margin, enabling the people of the city to buy just as cheap as anywhere on the continent. Through the Cash and Carry Prince Rupert is no longer an expensive place at which to live.

The Economy Cash and Carry store announces that it will continue to serve its customers at these low money-saving prices and as the business increases even greater advantages will accrue to those who deal there. Increased volume of business gives increased purchasing power and the customers benefit.

Those who have not yet given the Economy Cash and Carry an opportunity to show what can be done in bringing down the grocery bill to lowest possible figure are cordially invited to give the store a trial order.

Delivery can be arranged if the order amounts to five dollars and if less a small charge for delivery is made. It is worth while to get the Cash and Carry habit, just as important as having a savings bank habit. —Advt.
