oposed the toast to "The King" hich was heartily drunk. The lisses Mollyl and Nellie Lawrence then gave a couple of splendidly rendered musical selections. This was followed by the toast to "The LO.B.A. by J. A. Teng, and was ably eplied to by Mrs. Murray: Mr. Hillout then favored with a solo, which was enthusiastically encored. The principal speaker of the eveing was Rev. Henry Flores who, instantly warming to his subject, kept the rapt attention of the Protestanism from the Refornation down to the present day, ind concluded by proposing the oast to the Loyal Orange Associaion of British America. The reply vas made by J. H. Smith, who gave resume of the activities of the oyal Orange Association of British America from its inception, setting orth its principles, its aims and objects, seeking to prove that the Loyal Orange Association of British America had given one hundred years of patriotic service to the Doinion of Canada and the British

A solo capably rendered by Mrs. McPhee and Mrs. Waugh was the next item, and was so received by the gathering that an encore was emanded, and willingly given.
