wering snow clad mountains with the buildings nestling to one side. The Prince Rupert visitors were properly impressed and returned to the city last night feeling that here at least were people who realized that Prince Rupert had a great future and that the developments could not be long delayed.

Representative Party

Those who made the trip at the invitation of J. J. Little, manager for the company, were G. P. Tinker president of the Board of Trade. Ex-Mayor McMordie, Alderman Theo Collart, Alderman Brown, Alderman Linzey, Alderman J. H. Pillsbury, Ald. H. F. Pullen, M. P. McCaffery, L. W. Patmore, A. H. Carson, B. J. Mellish, N. F. Good. Thomas McClymont, G. W. Nickerson, A. Brooksbank, R. E. Benson. Max Heilbroner, Frank Dibb, and George Frizzell, and accompanying the party in addition to Mr. Little were Captain N. H. Mitchell, V.C. general superintendent of construction for the company, Mr. Hahaffey, supervising engineer for the transmission crossing, and J J. Boulianne, in charge of transmission line construction. The trip was made in the company's boat Bilmor and George Frizzell's Laura F. II., with Lorne Peck and K. Letnies in charge.

Work Being Done

At the plant the party was met Chief Engineer McLean and shown everything. A splendid dinner was served in the mess house, photographs were taken and then the to visit the site of the piers in the Queen Charlotte City. Skeena River and at the construction camp supper was served at intermediate points. nine o'clock, the expedition reaching home soon after midnight.

Returning again to the work done at the falls the following figures will prove interesting: The dam is being built 42 feet high and l this will eventually be increased to 66 feet and possibly more. The dam when completed under present plans will serve for the first but before other units are added it will have to be raised. The work of August and the transmission miles from Aiyansa, B.C. line is expected to be ready for about 8 chains above Govt. 1ish ladder use about a month after. Already in Lot No. 2450. there are five miles of poles erecrapidly.

Two Hundred Employed

There are nearly two hundred employed at the falls but the number on the 31st day of March, 1930. will be gradually reduced from now this number is being increased in about the same ratio as the decrease on the other work, which Parliament Buildings, Victoria, B. C., months of steady employment for paper three hundred men, many of whom are highly skilled.

The power site. penstock is being constructed to provide for these units. The huge forms for the concrete tunnel were seen and they measured 71/2 feet in diameter.

Work at the crossing of the Skeena River is making good progress. Wood piles have been driven and the metal piling is also going in. Very soon pouring of cement will commence. The four spans total about a mile and a-half in length.

At the supper near Skeena City! last night President Tinker of the Board of Trade thanked the company for their courtesies to the members of the party and General Superintendent Mitchell, and other officials of the company responded. It was suggested that possibly another visit might be made to Falls River by Prince Rupert citizens when the power was formally turned on. It would be a great oc-
