HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION PROCEEDS

To Reach Taylor Lake and Construct Bridge By Fall It Is Stated

District Engineer Expects to Keep Within Estimate of $2,800,000 For Whole Project to Terrace

Good progress is being made with the new highway work and definite plans are now in hand for the new bridge which is to be built across Galloway Rapids. The bridge is to be of timber construction, the main span of which will be 200 feet in length.

In regard to the highway itself, the work so far, it is announced, has been kept within the original estimate, and with the appropriation at present made for the season's work it should be possible to drive as far as Taylor Lake, the first of the Cloyah River chain of lakes beyond Cloyah Bay.

FISHING IS VERY GOOD

Conservative Estimate Puts Week's Average at Fifteen Fish Per Boat

There is still a satisfactory run of sockeye salmon on the Skeena River despite the fact that weather has been overcast and inclined to be cool since the first of the week, whereas last week's warm, sunny weather brought the fish to the top in greater numbers.

One of the more conservative of the cannery managers stated this morning that the boats at the mouth of the Skeena River had been averaging about 15 sockeye to the boat this week.

OCEAN FALLS MAN IS DEAD

William J. Heath Was Liberal Candidate For Mackenzie in Last Provincial Election

William John "Red" Heath of Ocean Falls, who was Liberal candidate in Mackenzie riding at the last provincial election, dropped dead in a street car at Vancouver last Sunday evening.

The deceased was a war veteran and prominent in Labor affairs at Ocean Falls. He was a bachelor, aged 40 and is survived by a mother in England. He was preparing to take an active part in support of Olof Hanson in the forthcoming federal campaign when he was stricken.

The late Mr. Heath had many friends in Prince Rupert who will regret to hear of his demise.

It is planned to continue the present construction until November when it is presumed the weather will not permit further work. By then the lake should be reached, the bridge built and cars driving over it.

Just now there are about 60 men employed at the construction camp and it is possible that another small gang may be put on later. At any rate the present force will be kept on, it is announced, right through to the fall.

Surveys are also being pushed ahead. Just now the party is working from a camp at the head of Warke Canal and toward the end of next month this camp will be shifted to Skeena City from which point the survey will be connected up.

The estimated cost of the whole road to connect with the highway at Terrace is set at $2,800,000 and the district engineer says that his work so far and the survey data indicate that it can be built well within that figure.

Two Speakers at Tonight's Meeting Expected to Carry Fight Into Enemy's Camp

Two fighting speeches are expected tonight from T. D. Pattullo M.P.P. and George Pearson, M.P.P., the two principal speakers at the Liberal meeting in Moose Hall tonight.

Mr. Pearson is one of the coming Liberal leaders. He was mentioned as a possible leader if Mr. Pattullo had decided to enter the federal arena. He too will have some pungent remarks to make.

Both these men are fighters who carry the political war into the camp of the enemy.

EVIDENCE IS HEARD

Oliver-Latimer Case Provides Further Sensations in Supreme Court

VANCOUVER, June 26:—Nobody has the right to take the law into his own hands said Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald in Supreme Court yesterday when H. B. Robertson K.C., counsel for the council of the British Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons, commented, during the hearing of Dr. Victor Latimer's appeal against being disbarred from the College, that any man who did what Charles Oliver thought Latimer had done "deserved to be killed."

Mrs. Oliver's story relating to an alleged assault in her house at Pentiction by Dr. Latimer on July 27 last was termed "too fantastic" by G. L. Fraser, counsel for the appellant. According to Mrs. Oliver's evidence, she fell in a heap on the floor and her mind became a blank. She woke up the next morning.

H. B. Robertson, K.C., counsel for the medical council, argued that Mrs. Oliver was physically well before she went to Dr. Latimer to consult him in connection with her ears but afterwards became nervous. Mrs. Oliver's evidence, according to counsel, showed that Latimer told her she would go deaf if she did not continue the treatment. Counsel submitted that, when Latimer heard the husband was coming home, he stopped using the drug and the patient began to feel loss of strength. The medical council had held that Latimer was guilty of administering drugs improperly to Mrs. Oliver.

Miss Bertha Gerard, R.N., arrived yesterday from Seattle, to spend a holiday with her sister, Mrs. A. M. Beattie, and will be returning via Jasper Park.

Splendid Climax Last Night to International Yacht Races When Prizes and Trophies Were Awarded

Maidie Was First Over All and City Trophy Went to Nisbet

The largest dinner dance ever staged in Prince Rupert and one of the most successful events in the history of the special entertainment of the visiting yachtsmen at which the winners of the races were announced and the trophies and prizes presented.

The spacious hall presented a very gay scene. Yachts or yachting emblems were in evidence everywhere and especially on the walls where on blue backgrounds hundreds of miniature yachts were hung, giving a unique effect such as could not have been obtained in any other way. The seats were arranged around the outside of the hall and in the galleries and the centre was kept for dancing.

George Bushby, president of the Prince Rupert Yacht Club, presided most efficiently and J. C. Brady, who presented the prizes, did so in such a manner that the long ceremony was without a moment's dullness. Mayor Orme too was at his best and carried out his part with credit to the position he holds.

The chief theme of the event was to illustrate the friendly spirit of the two nations, United States and Canada. The aim was to make the visitors feel that they were not in a foreign country but just calling upon neighbors. Almost every speaker said something emphasizing this.

The proceedings opened by the singing of "O Canada." "God Save the King" and "My Country 'Tis of Thee." A huge key to the city was presented to Richard Fro-

"I wholeheartedly endorse Premier King's policy of trade within the British Empire," Mr. Carrick states. "This was my slogan in the reciprocity election in 1911. This is my same slogan today."

Big Gathering Turns Out at Terrace to Hear Speeches in Support of Liberal Candidate

TERRACE, June 26:—Fully one hundred and fifty persons, which may be considered a big average for this town, turned out in Progress Hall last night when T. D. Pattullo, M.L.A. for Prince Rupert and leader of the Liberal party in British Columbia, and George S. Pearson, M.L.A. for Nanaimo, opened the Liberal federal election campaign on behalf of Olof Hanson's candidature for the office of Member of Parliament. A splendid reception was given all the speakers, particularly Mr. Pattullo whose first visit it was here since he was officially chosen leader of the Opposition. That Olof Hanson has a large number of supporters here was also indicated by the spontaneous enthusiasm that was manifested for his cause.

The principal speakers were Mr. Pattullo and Mr. Pearson. R. W. Riley presided over the meeting and E. T. Kenney gave an introductory speech.

Mr. Pattullo and Mr. Pearson left on this morning's train for Prince Rupert where they will speak tonight before proceeding to Anxox, Stewart and Premier.

The Political Corner

In Her Time of Need

The London Times—"The Thundered"—says: "The advantages offered by Canada to British industry are offered without any bargaining or corresponding concessions, and the spirit which prompted them will be appreciated as much as their actual economic effect in helping British trade at a time when help is badly needed."

But Hon. R. B. Bennett, the Conservative leader says: "The Liberal preferential tariff offer to Great Britain cannot be justified without obtaining a quid pro quo."

There is no doubt about it, English foreign trade is in a bad way. She has lost many of her pre-war markets. High tariff walls have shut her out from doing business with many of her former customers. Her textile trades, her iron and steel trades and her coal mining industries are languishing. She is bowed down with the greatest burden of taxation any country has ever known in order that she may pay her war debts and so maintain that perfect standard of international honor whose name is "British."

And our Tory friends say to this Mother Country who has always stood with her navy between us and every foreign menace; who has paid those navy bills without a murmur; that country to which we owe our freedom and liberty, our democratic institutions and everything that is best in us; we will not give you any trade preference unless you give us an equal preference in return. No truck nor trade with Britain without a quid pro quo.

Where are the Englishmen and the Scotsmen in Canada going to stand in this election? When did the Mother Land ever call in her time of need and her sons sit mute?

Are we to bargain and haggle like a fish wife with that Mother Country over a trade preference? Are we going to demand a brick for a brick in our tariff walls with her, or are we going to trust her? Are we going to endorse the magnanimous preferential offer made to her by Mackenzie King, trusting that she will in her own good time reciprocate? When did she ever fail us?

Listen to the voice of "The Thundered," and let us help her trade "at a time when help is badly needed."
