Series of Smokers at Empress Social Club to Commence on Wednesday

The Empress Social Club announces that a boxing smoker will be held in their club gymnasium on Wednesday, October 15, this to be the first of a series of boxing exhibitions to be undertaken by the club during the winter months. An attractive list of bouts has been arranged for the opening show and includes some of the best of local talent. There will be some thirty rounds of boxing in all, and a complete list of bouts will be announced shortly.

The club has recently made extensive alterations in their club rooms and their boxing gymnasium is large enough to seat a fair crowd of fans.

MATRICES WINNERS

Defeated Ten-Elevens in High School Football

The Matric-Commercials defeated the Ten-Elevens one to nothing yesterday in the most keenly contested game of the High School Inter-Class Soccer League. Good football was evident throughout the game although the ball was sent out of play too frequently.

The Matric-Commercials, with the slope in their favor, began to press at once. For a long time the play was kept near the Ten-Eleven goal. However, Carl Smith was sure at full-back and no score resulted. At last the effective work of the backs and of Cameron gave the junior forward line its chance. Away they went with the combination which won them the last game, in full force. Kanaya was notably good. Palmer was clever with the ball but he repeatedly kept it too long. His failure to pass was fatal for Thurber stopped him again and again and sent the ball down the field. Thomas and Roy Morrison did some excellent back work for the seniors at this time. Unger missed the ball a few times but as a rule his kick was productive of long gains for the older boys. McMeekin and Comadino were good half-backs, meeting the play and pressing at all times. The opposing wing halves, Rice and Bartlett, were likewise steadily in the game. The first half produced no score. Play had been remarkably even the weight and aggressiveness of the seniors being counterbalanced by better team co-operation between the Ten-Elevens.

The second period opened with both sides showing real determination to score. The Ten-Elevens swept in again and again with a play that seemed destined to produce a score. Three times Wilson carried the ball down his side of the field, made a perfect pass to the centre, Cameron received it properly and passed to Kanaya or Palmer. But the seniors were checking closely. Thurber, Vance and McMeekin were quick to clear the ball. Ross was active in going to meet each attack.

The whole back division showed quick decision in doing something with the ball rather than let it go into the goal. They sent the ball behind their own goal line repeatedly. Goalie Stinech was tested many times and not found wanting. Balked on the right, the juniors attacked on the left. Moxley was always dangerous although he hesitated just a shade too long in passing back to centre and thereby lost his advantage.

The senior forwards were now getting into good understanding with each other. Their play swept from wing to wing with Clark and Thomas as pivots of each manoeuvre. Murray, McRae and Johnson were ready for these attacks and with the steady influence of Smith, turned back the senior line. However, there was one flaw in their system which was finally to pave the way for their opponent's score. They too frequently backed up on their own goal mouth instead of rushing forward to meet the play. This movement permitted Bremner to lie well up the field, without being offside. Thurber sent him the ball. He quickly centred to Clark who shoved it over to Dominato. The latter was quick to pass the ball over to Thomas who shot. Goalie Allen had made repeated saves but this time the play was hid from him by his own teammates who were backing up instead of rushing to meet the ball. The resultant goal won the game.

Matric-Commercials — Stinech; Vance, Unger; McMeekin, Thurber (captain), Comadino (first half of game), Ross (second half of game), Bremner, Dominato, Clark, Thomas, Morrison.

Ten-Elevens—Allen; C. Smith, E. Johnson; Bartlett, Murray, McRae, Rice (first half of game), Wilson (second half of game), Kanaya, Cameron, Palmer, Moxley.

Changes were allowed in the teams to allow all boys who had turned out for their class a chance to play.

Roy Wicks and Walter Cross handled the lines very capably. Harry Gilliland refereed.

Members of the crew of the ss. Prince Charles, which has been tied up in the local dry dock for the winter, sailed last night on the Prince George for Vancouver.
