The Political Corner

Vol. 1 Friday, June 20 No. 9

Conservative Party Favors Vancouver

The Conservative Party, as a party, has always treated the claims of Prince Rupert with intolerance, at times, amounting almost to contempt. No doubt the reason for this is because the Grand Trunk Pacific was a Liberal Party project and the city of Prince Rupert being its terminal was identified in interest with the railway project.

One has only to read the debates in Hansard at the time the elevator vote was under discussion to see the animus of the leaders of the Tory Party against this Port. Messrs. Meighan, Manion and Drayton, three of their party leaders, referred contemptuously to the claims of Prince Rupert, Sir Henry Drayton going so far as to ask why Prince Rupert should be allowed by the Government to enter into competition with Vancouver in the grain export trade. His exact words were: "What earthly use is there in this Government turning round and making competition between their own terminals, Vancouver on the one side and Prince Rupert on the other? You have no grain in the latter district you have to go East of that for your grain."

All of which means just one thing, namely, that Prince Rupert is not entitled in the minds of the Tory leaders to a share of the grain trade from the East and naturally it follows to no share in the Peace River grain trade. This should all be diverted to Vancouver. Why, forsooth, should Prince Rupert dare to enter into competition with Vancouver for a share of this Eastern grain business?

The farmers along the Canadian National will note with interest what Drayton says about there being no grain in this district.

This was the attitude of the Tory leaders a few years ago. Has the Ethiopian changed his skin or the leopard its spots?

What will happen to us if the Mackenzie King Government is beaten and the Tolmie Government backed by the Tory City of Vancouver demands that the Canadian National take over the P.G.E. in order to divert the Peace River trade to Vancouver?

Mr. Brady could not then avert the catastrophe.
