Frankie Neel of this city took a four-round decision from Wing Hay, Victoria Chinaman, on a recent boxing card at the Variety Theatre in Victoria. The Chinaman was game and for a round or so held his own while Neel was not seen to advantage until towards the third round. Then the local boy went for his man in fine style with a regular bombardment of lefts and an occasional right and so far weakened Wing that he had him fairly at his mercy. Neel was fighting on a card in the headline event of which Jumbo Davies, who performed here last summer, decisioned Johnny McDonald of Vancouver in 10 rounds.

The Stewart Winter Sports Club, which proved such a success last year in organizing the young people of that district in sports and other activities, has been reorganized with officers as follows; president, Hector Stewart; vice-president, Duncan Cameron; secretary-treasurer, Miss Betty Jack; executive, Miss Evelyn Blanton, Miss Rita McLean, W. S. Orr and W. D. Smith. Under the auspices of the club, basketball will start in Stewart on October 22 and will be played on every succeeding Wednesday evening.

GOOD CARD OF BOXING

Empress Social Club Has Fine Opener For Series of Winter Smokers

A fine boxing card was put on at the Empress Club last night for the first of a series of pugilistic smokers it is planned to hold there during the coming winter. There was a fair sized crowd of fans and all were well satisfied with the show. Had it not been for a number of other events on, there would have been a much bigger crowd.

In the main event, Pete Holm and Cyclone Docherty, a pair of welters, put on a lively bout which ended in a draw. It was to six rounds.

Chuck Brown got the decision over Art Brown whom he all but knocked out. This event was five rounds.

Pete Chenoski and Johnny Roma did five rounds to a fair enough draw.

Don Kennedy got the decision from Rupert Fong in five rounds.

Johnny McLeod and Herbie Morgan fought three fast rounds to a draw.

In the curtain raising exhibition, Marvin Rowe and Vernon Rowe sparred for three rounds and deserved a shower of silver.

Andrew Wall failed to appear in his heavyweight bout against Dan Healy.

Douglas Frizzell was referee for all bouts and Max Heilbroner was timekeeper.
